Bulk Of Nation's Mines Are Down Until Monday

First Three-Day Week For Miners Is Concluded For Present Week

FEW DIGGERS STAY ON JOB IS REPORT

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The great bulk of the nation's soft and hard coal mines shut down today, marking the end of the three-day work week imposed by John L. Lewis.

The pits will remain closed four days and then reopen for another three-day work week next Monday.

Only a comparative handful of Lewis' 480,000 diggers stayed on the job today in some small Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois mines which gave in to the United Mine Workers 1949 contract demands.

They were authorized to resume five-day production after signing an agreement raising their contributions to the union welfare program from 20 to 35 cents a ton and boosting their employees wages 95 cents a day.

Other operators will be kept on a three-day work week by the union until they sign on the dotted line.

Companies Not Identified

The UMW president thus far has refused to identify the companies signing up but said they produce 7,340,000 tons of bituminous coal annually. He predicted "additional tonnage will sign."

Major producers insisted, however, their ranks are holding firm and pointed out that the UMW has obtained a contract from less than

Close study of the characters formed by nature proved very interesting and almost any imaginable fairy book creature could be seen.

Numerous bird and wild life feeding stations are in existence about the city and county, having been erected by interested citizens who believe in preservation of the birds and animals. City forester Owen Fox plays a big part in this humanitarian work as he places food and shelter out for the wild-life that spends its winters in this climate. With snow covering the landscape, it is most difficult for animals and birds to find food.

Snow which hit the city and portions of the county during the early morning hours was sporadic, according to Alfred A. Martin, county highway superintendent, whose job it is to keep posted on weather conditions throughout the county. He reports that residents in Enon Valley and those living south of Westfield grange, failed to see any snow. Districts where the snow hampered travel brought out alert cinderers crews.

President Preparing Budget For Congress

By ROBERT G. NIXON (U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SUB. BASE, Key West, Fla., Dec. 8.—President Truman turned today from the State of the Union message to consideration of the budget recommendations he will send to the Congress next month.

Budget Director Frank Pace and his staff in Washington are now nearing completion of the telephone-book-size document.

The administration's youthful fiscal expert from Arkansas is expected to join this south Florida vacation colony shortly for budget conferences with Mr. Truman. The time of his arrival by plane will depend on completion of pending budget estimates.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson, adviser as well as close friend of the President, also is expected to join him for his final week of his three-week stay in Florida.

Another administration aide, David K. Niles, the single survivor from the staff of the late President Roosevelt, also is expected.

Gets Harvard Hint

—Acme Telephoto

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Sharmen Douglas got a well-bred Harvard hint there may be more "pep and flavor" in certain young Americans—Harvard men, of course—than in the British m'lords she's been dating. The hint to the daughter of the U. S. ambassador to England came in a letter from Harvard's exclusive Hasty Pudding Club which announced Miss Douglas has been voted their "woman of the year" because "you have done more for international good will than many a diplomat fully equipped with striped pants."

Chest Funds Over $100,000

"Dollar Does It" Drive Is Bringing Excellent Results Report Shows

CHEST WORKERS ARE ENTHUSED

"It's official now. We have more than $100,000 and we'll make the goal," Community Chest Chairman J. Leper Matthews announced today.

The "Dollar Does It" campaign has brought an enthusiastic response from the people of this community and 13 welfare agencies will have the badly needed $127,350 quota if the present effort continues to gain momentum, the jubilant chairman added.

The Chest total at noon today was $100,235. However, encouraging signs could be detected that indicate the total will continue to approach the goal during the pre-Christmas weeks.

The Girl Scout staff, one of the thirteen agencies that benefit from the Chest campaign, gave an additional contribution today to the "Dollar Does It" and expressed the hope that other agency personnel would do the same.

Cites Good Cause

An unidentified man walked into the Chest office on East Washington street today and laid down two dollars. He said, "I don't want any publicity about this but the drive is for a good cause and I'm willing to add a little extra to it."

One of the largest single contributions was made by Gas Line Breaks Near Centralia, Mo.

CENTRALIA, Mo., Dec. 8.—(INS)—A high-pressure gas pipeline carrying natural gas from Texas to Detroit broke and exploded near Centralia shortly before 5 a. m. (CST) today.

Flames from a fire which followed were reported visible at Kirkwood, Mo., some 100 miles southeast of Centralia.

The line break is said to have occurred about five miles north of Centralia near a nine million dollar pumping station operated by the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company. The company operates the pipeline.

The fire was being brought under control about three hours later after company officials turned off valves controlling the flow of gas through the line.

Several cooling towers were damaged at the pumping station but the amount of damage would not be estimated.

No injuries were reported.

Recognition Of Red Regime Is Being Delayed

Major Powers Withhold Action Until Americans Are Repatriated By China

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Major powers with interests in the far east are reported today to be withholding recognition of the Chinese communist regime pending the repatriation of two American servicemen.

The two are the last of the "missing persons" who have been held behind the Asiatic "iron curtain."

Held for more than a year by the reds are chief electrician William C. Smith, Long Beach, Calif., and Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender of Cincinnati.

Disappeared Year Ago
They disappeared more than a year ago while on a "routine training flight" near Tsingtao. They were members of a naval mission to the Chinese Nationalist government.

Repeated demands on their return have been fruitless. They have never acknowledged that the pair were within red territory.

Secret reports to the state department, however, have indicated that both are alive and well.

Discussions between the United States and Britain have centered on bringing the servicemen out.

Britain is known to be anxious to recognize the Chinese communist regime. But she also is understood to be willing to withhold recognition until all Americans are released from their hands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Delegates of the American Medical Association voted unanimously today to levy $25 a year dues on all active members to finance their fight against "socialized medicine."

Technically, the change in the AMA by-laws gave the board of trustees authority to recommend any amount of dues up to $25 a year. The board promptly recommended the full $25 for 1950 and this was approved.

Fire Destroys Large Barn On Pulaski Road

Loss Estimated Around $15,000 Caused By Wednesday Afternoon Fire

FIREMEN FROM THREE COMPANIES RESPOND

Fire, which was discovered about 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, in one of the huge barns on the former Greer farm, on the Pulaski road in Neshannock township, now owned by Jack M. Randall, completely destroyed the rambling structure, and a smaller barn, immediately adjoining and their contents, with a loss of around $15,000, which is reported partly covered by insurance.

Three Fire Departments Respond

Three fire departments went to the scene, and were successful in preventing the spread of the fire to adjoining structures, extinguishing the fire which had begun to lick up the side of a big storage barn about 75 feet to the north of the destroyed building. Firemen did a splendid job in saving this building, as the fire was in the apex of the roof, and finally worked its way inside. The first group on the scene had to work in intense heat, but as assistance arrived, firemen went into the structure and fought the blaze from that point.

Neshannock and Union township departments were on the job, along with the Second Ward truck from New Castle, and Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink.

Home Threatened
For a time, it appeared as if the Randall home, across the road from the big barn might catch fire, as

Chestnut Street Store Is Robbed

REPORT HE GOT ABOUT $152 LOOT

Lone, masked bandit, armed with an object, believed to have been a revolver, at 7:37 p. m. Wednesday held up and robbed the Muder grocery at 607 Chestnut street, while customers were present, locked the owner and a clerk in a lavatory, stole $152.25, then escaped, according to police.

According to the police version, as collected from witnesses, Emanuel Choco, a clerk in the store, saw a young man outside the store, with his face covered with a handkerchief.

He said that, at the time, he believed it was someone playing a game with other youths. However, the person, with face partly covered by the handkerchief, entered the store, shoved an object in a canvas bag, and believed to be a revolver, against Choco's ribs.

The bandit commanded Choco, and the store owner, Russell K. Muder, to enter a lavatory room, and locked them in.

Meanwhile, Mrs. J. T. Eagan and a daughter, who were in the store, fled from the establishment.

The bandit took $152.25 from the cash register and fled.

Jacob B. Carey, superintendent of highways for Butler county, announced today that Route 422, from Idle Inn to Mt. Chestnut, was officially opened at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

The road was scheduled to be thrown open on Tuesday but various delays, including weather conditions postponed the opening for a day. Some work is going on yet by workmen of the contracting firm which built the new stretch of highway, but traffic is unhindered along the entire 13-mile stretch, it is announced.

Two Hundred Guests Routed By Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Two hundred guests fled safely early today from the Knickerbocker hotel on Chicago's Gold Coast when fire swept a 12th floor room.

Firemen said the blaze apparently was started by a cigarette in a room occupied by Vincent W. Zurek, of Davenport, Ia., and Richard E. Falconi, of Moline, Ill.

Zurek told police he awakened to find the room in flames. He ran down the hall nude shouting "fire."

His cries aroused other guests on the 12th floor.

The noise of breaking glass and fire apparatus awakened others in the 400-room hotel and they fled to the street.

Firemen confined the blaze to the one room, but others were damaged by smoke and water.

Allen G. Hurst, the hotel's president and general manager, estimated damage at $5,000.

Mayor's Secretary To End Service

Will Retire At End Of Year After 21 Years Service—Successor Named

Mrs. Edna Hopkins Reimold of Sheridan avenue, who has served various mayors for approximately 21 years as secretary, has presented her resignation, effective in January, and will be succeeded by Mrs. Leah Dietterle, North Mercer street, at present secretary to parks and property director Joseph D. Alexander, who retires in January.

Announcement of the foregoing was made by Mayor John F. Haven following a conference with city councilmen in the municipal building today.

Mrs. Reimold, who has been an efficient and courteous secretary, began her secretarial role during the incumbency of the late Mayor William H. Dunlap. She also served as secretary to the late Mayor William H. Gillespie, two terms for Mayor Charles B. Mayne and is serving her second term as secretary to Mayor John F. Haven.

Lt. Gen. Groves Clears Wallace And Hopkins In Testimony Before Committee

FURTHER FACTS BEING SOUGHT

(BULLETIN)

NORWALK, Conn., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves said today that he would "hate to see Congress close its inquiry now 'into charges that wartime secrets were shipped to Russia in large quantity.'"

Groves refused to say whether he believed there is much more to the story than was brought out in his testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee yesterday, but added that he is willing to return and testify more fully if asked by any committee at any time.

By FRANK B. ALLEN (U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Congressional spy hunters set the stage today for a broadened investigation of charges that Russia got large wartime shipments of atomic materials and Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves urged that the probe be pursued as "vitaly important."

The House Un-American Activities Committee scheduled additional hearings for Dec. 19-20, while Republican members of the group angrily accused the majority-party members of attempting to "whitewash" administration dealings with Russia.

Clears Wallace, Hopkins
Lt. Gen. Leslie Groves, wartime atomic chief, testified before the committee and cleared former Vice President Henry Wallace and the late President's aide, Harry Hopkins of accusations that they "pressured" him in behalf of Russia.

But GOP committee members angrily asserted that they had not been told of the hearings in time to attend. They said they will ask that all major witnesses, including Groves, be brought back for a "full and proper" investigation.

Democrats on the committee said that Groves' testimony discounted the charges of former U. S. Senator Charles McNary, who asserted a radio program conducted by Fulton Lewis, Jr., that Hopkins expedited atom material shipments to Russia.

Acting Committee Chairman Walter (D) Pa., said Jordan's story was "highly improbable."

And Rep. Harris (D) Va., added: "Mr. Jordan's story is inherently incredible."

Lines Of Inquiry
Committee probers, meanwhile, have been assigned to three lines of inquiry. They concerned:

1. An apparent conflict between Groves' testimony that he knew nothing about the 1,000 pounds of uranium the Russians got in Canada until long afterward, and a memorandum from one lieutenant to another indicating that Groves had approved it.

2. Possibility that Army documents may reveal that there was an additional quarter-ton shipment of uranium compounds in 1944 which has not thus far been disclosed.

3. Reports that the Russians may (Continued on Page Two)

China Gains Moral Victory In United Nations

(BULLETIN)
FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Nationalist China won a moral victory in the United Nations today when the Assembly agreed by a substantial majority to keep the Far East under active surveillance in 1950.
A tougher policy adopted by the United States in retaliation for Chinese Communist mishandlings of American consular officials, evidently swung the Assembly. It voted for a three-power Latin-American proposal to instruct the "Little Assembly" to undertake "continuous examination and study" of charges that Russia violated the Sino-Soviet amity pact and the U.N. charter through master-minding Chinese Communist expansion.
The resolution, presented by Cuba, Peru and Ecuador, also directs the "Little Assembly" to consider any future violations of the United States resolution upholding the territorial integrity of China as embodied by the "Open Door" and "hands off" policy. This policy was sponsored by the United States with four other nations.

During her incumbency, between 20 and 21 years, she retained the friends she had, and by sincere devotion to duty and courteous treatment of people who transacted business in city hall, earned many new friends.
She is resigning because her husband, Ward Reimold, is now located by the Bell Telephone company in Sharon, where the Reimolds will make their future home.
Mayor Haven explained that Mrs. Dietterle, who is well acquainted with the affairs of all city departments, had applied for the secretaryship, and due to her experience in city affairs, it was felt feasible to grant her the appointment, hence when her name is formally presented to council in January, the mayor said she would be formally appointed as mayor's secretary.

other officials and employees, enjoyed working with the departing officials, and expressed the hope that, whatever line of endeavor they followed in the future, would be successful.

Alexander Speaks
Councilman Alexander, first to respond, who has been in office 16 years, said he sincerely appreciated the fellowship shown and the honor bestowed upon him, and said it will be a long time before it is forgotten. He added he was proud of the personnel of City hall stating that the group is sincere, provides service and courtesy to the people of the community and said it is with regret he was leaving city service.

Councilman Gibson, who has served eight years, thanked the assemblage for the honor and said that his success was due to the cooperation, not only of his department, but all city employees. He said his term as councilman had been a wonderful experience, adding that no one outside City hall knows the problems which confront a councilman.

Mr. Gibson said he had enjoyed his stay in City hall, after which he again thanked the assemblage for the honor.

Controller W. A. Moore, who has served five years, said he deemed it a great pleasure to have served the city and to have been associated with such employees. He added that he had appreciated serving the citizens and added that he regretted leaving city official life in January. He thanked the employees for the honor shown him.

Will Retire
Mayor Haven next called upon Mrs. Edna Reimold, his secretary, explaining Mrs. Reimold had presented her resignation, effective in January because, she is to make her future home in Sharon, where her husband, Ward Reimold, is affiliated with the Bell Telephone company. Mrs. Reimold has served between 20 and 21 years as secretary for several mayors.

He said she has had long city service, proved efficient and courteous, and, during that time, had earned many friends. He said he was sorry to see her resign.
The four honored guests were then summoned. Councilmen Alexander, Councilman Gibson and Controller Moore were each presented with a beautiful white shirt and tie. Mrs. Reimold was presented with a pair of sterling silver candlesticks.

Following the presentation the assembly participated in games, the affair lasting until 9:30 p. m. contributions to the "Dollar Does It" drive was one of $50 from a lady who said, "I'd rather give it to the local Community Chest and then deduct it from my income tax." Not a bad idea thought the listeners in the Chest office at the time.

The chain telephone calls also got an enthusiastic response yesterday. Mrs. G. G. Horchier of the Seventh ward said that she made four calls to start the thing in her section yesterday. All the ladies she talked with agreed that a dollar more from each family was a good idea. Not only were they going to make the additional contribution but they were going to call their friends and urge that they do the same.

Fifteen women in various parts of the city and the rural areas started the telephone chain yesterday and all agreed the idea was spreading. Some said that they thought a call would be coming back to them seeking contributions.

Women Make Gain

It was also announced today at the Chest office that the women's division has reached the total of $9,050. This is $550 more than the same group reached last year and represents a lot of hard work and splendid cooperation. Mrs. Ethel Rentz Ferver and Mrs. James Moorehead headed the women's division. Every other division of the Chest is now striving to achieve the fine mark reached by the ladies.

It's less than four weeks to New Year's Day when the money raised this year will start helping 13 essential welfare agencies operate. Sufficient funds are available for several months of service to the community but more is needed for a successful year. The "Dollar Does It" idea was designed to insure that full year of operation.

Demands Recall
Rep. Andrews, Ill., the House GOP whip, demanded that Groves be recalled when Republicans are to question him. Republican committee members Nixon, Cal. Case, S. D., and Velde, Ill., joined in Andrews' demands.

A committee source said two wartime lend-lease officials, identified as William C. Moore, liaison officer for Russian supply, and his aide, James E. Hoots, will be called to testify in the further probe of the half-ton shipment of Canadian uranium to Russia through the Great Falls Air Base.

Reportedly found in lend-lease files was a memorandum dated May 1, 1943, from Hoots to Moore referring to the 1,000 pound deal, and saying the permit had been denied April 14, and that the denial later was rescinded after a telephone conversation between Groves and Maj. Gen. C. M. Weson, director of the Russian branch of foreign economic administration.

Ernest McConahy, aged 51 years, of Mount Pleasant, died at 10:55 o'clock, after an illness of a year and a half.

He was a lifelong resident of the city, and was born September 28, 1898, son of the late John McConahy and Mrs. Minnie L. Pringle McConahy, who survives.

The deceased was well known as a barber for 20 years, and during World War II was an arm inspector. He was employed at the National Tube company prior to his illness. Mr. McConahy was a member of the Wurttemberg Methodist church and the Eagle club.

His wife, Mrs. Goldie M. Newt McConahy, survives, in addition to his mother, and a son, John A. McConahy, at two daughters, Mrs. Martha M. Hemmery and Mrs. Louise Lee Aitsman, of Ellwood City.

He leaves his brothers: Paul S., of Fontana, Calif.; Ralph R., of New Castle, and Charles E., and Walter J. McConahy, of Zelle, Pa.; and two sisters, Mrs. John Cunningham, of Wayne township, and Mrs. Elsie Boyd, of R. D. 1, Wampum; and three grandchildren.

A son, Ernest Dale, died in 1941. The body will be at the residence, where friends may call anytime after 7 o'clock this evening. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Mrs. Alex W. Valley

Mrs. Alex W. Valley, aged 56 years, died at 4:35 a. m. today at her home, 407 West Washington street. Born in New Castle, July 29, 1893, she was a daughter of John J. and Margaret O'Neill Meehan. Mrs. Valley was the former Margaret Meehan.

She was a member of St. Mary's church, St. Mary's Rosary society and L.C.B.A.
Survivors besides her husband are four children, Mrs. Margaret V. Philippon, New Castle, Mrs. Eleanor V. Goughan, Pittsburgh, Paul A. and Miss Bernice M. Valley, both at home; one sister, Mrs. Nora Varley, Lowellville, O.; a brother, Dr. John A. Meehan, this city, and a granddaughter.

A brother, Paul A. Meehan, died in May, 1931, while her mother, Mrs. J. J. Meehan, preceded her in death in May, 1946.

Solemn high mass of requiem will be offered at 10 a. m. Saturday from St. Mary's church. Burial will take place in St. Mary's cemetery.

Friends may call at the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington at Chestnut, from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Friday.

Beahm Funeral

Funeral services for Edward C. Beahm, 423 Northview avenue, were conducted from the Leyde mortuary Wednesday, at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Robert H. Mayo in charge.

Burial was in Castle View Burial Park, with pallbearers being Philip Beahm, S. O. Lewis, A. G. Herrick, E. B. Wilcox, J. L. Maxwell, and J. J. Boyle.

Mrs. Harris Funeral
Funeral services for Mrs. John T. Harris, of 518 Electric street, were conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the John R. Bigler funeral home with Rev. Thomas J. Jones officiating.

Mrs. Ernest Trehanne, Mrs. Della Davies, Mrs. Katherine Dolling, Mrs. Hannah Bluedorn and Harry H. Davies, accompanied by Mrs. Henry J. Jenkins, sang two numbers.

Thomas Morgan, Darnain and George Wells, and Robert, Lloyd and Harry Harris were pallbearers. Burial took place in Oak Park cemetery.

the wind carried burning embers in that direction. One truck was located there, to protect the home while the others were located near the blaze.

Mrs. Randall and neighbors discovered the fire about the same time, and called firemen. Mrs. Randall was joined by her husband, who was at another section of the farm, and they saved their automobile and a valuable German police dog, which were housed in a carriage shed, across from the main barn.

In the destroyed structure was a combine, which had been purchased just two years ago. Mr. Randall stated, along with about two tons of hay, and five tons of straw and some smaller machinery.

No Animals In Barn

There were no animals in the barn at the time of the fire, they having been moved to another location on the farm only a short time ago.

Neshannock township firemen stayed on the scene until midnight keeping the burning embers dampened down, and to stand by in case wind fanned the burning embers and scattered them among the other buildings.

The large barn across the lane from the destroyed barn, which was saved by firemen contained a considerable amount of grain, and had it burned, the loss would have been much more severe. Firemen from the three departments, who succeeded in saving this structure, were commended highly by Mr. Randall for their splendid work under the difficulties which faced them.

The Randalls have lived on the old Greer farm since purchasing it about three years ago. It is located on the old Pulaski road, a short distance beyond the Kings Chapel Methodist church, and is one of the landmarks in that vicinity.

The buildings which burned were 95 by 100 feet, and 18 by 30 feet in size, along with a silo attached to the larger barn, and were said to be about 50 years old.

He is finding himself confronted, however, with the constantly increasing demands of European relief and the rearming of the North Atlantic Pact countries.

The minimum estimate at present on this year's budget is now set at forty-three billion dollars, with some estimates soaring to forty-five billions.

In either case, the figure would again set a peace-time record. Against this are set revenue income estimates of about thirty-eight billions.

Mr. Truman is hoping to bring the two divergent figures closer together with additional economies in defense requirements and other government expenditures.

John D. Battle, executive vice president of the National Coal Association, commented: "The companies signing are small gopher holes. So far as we know, there are still no well-established companies in the field."

One large operator, Whitney Warner, Jr., of Cleveland, explored the possibility of a contract with the union but then backed out. Warner, who mines over two million tons of coal a year, said an agreement should only be signed on an industry-wide basis.

HUNT AIRLINER MISSING IN WEST WITH 7 ABOARD

unscheduled airliner, said ten passengers were discharged from Burbank at Oakland airport shortly before 5 p. m. yesterday. It took off in rain and heavy overcast.

Last Report

The plane was last heard from five minutes later when its pilot, James S. Garnett of Burbank, reported by radio he was flying at a 4,000-foot altitude and had reached the intersection of the Fairfield beam over Richmond. That was 21 minutes' flying time from Sacramento.

Hamilton Field officials readied two search planes and a helicopter to take off at daybreak to comb the marshy area over which the passenger plane disappeared.

Operators of the air line said the plane had sufficient fuel to keep it aloft only until 7:33 o'clock last night.

Two of the passengers aboard were reported to be Mrs. George Batchelor, wife of the airline's owner, and their five-year-old son, George, Jr.

Prison Fugitive Surrenders After Short Freedom

BELLEVILLE, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—An escaped convict was back at Rockview penitentiary at Belleville after a two-hour taste of cold freedom.

Joseph G. Hood, Jr., 21, of Philadelphia sealed the stockade early today near the prison kitchen where he worked and dashed into the mountains. He gave himself up because he was cold and hungry. He told prison officials he was headed home because he didn't have visitors and was worried. He is serving a five to 10-year sentence for burglary.

JUNIOR READING CIRCLE ASSEMBLES

Miss Mildred Miller, program chairman, introduced the Misses Grace and Pearl Lipp who sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain" and "The Birthday of a King" with Mrs. Richard K. Allen as accompanist. Miss Elizabeth Millholland introduced Mrs. Thomas Shreffler, a guest, as the evening's speaker. Mrs. Shreffler presented "Home for Christmas" by Lloyd C. Douglass. The program was well received by the group.

Miss Gertrude Graham presided at the business session, when Miss Edith Cleaveland, welfare chairman, reported that the circle had purchased three pairs of shoes and one pair of boots in November. Mrs. William Woodworth, budget chairman, gave a financial report of the two projects being sponsored by the club.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table, decorated with colorful appointments of the season. Rooms of the Carr home were attractively decorated in the same motif. Mrs. Carr, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. John S. Riley, Jr., Mrs. Frederic W. Brinkley and Miss Mildred Miller were hostesses. A gift exchange was in charge of the social committee with Mrs. Ray Putnam as chairman. After serving, the welfare committee conducted a white elephant auction with Mrs. Alfred Hyde in charge.

There will be a board meeting at 12:30 and the afternoon's festivity will begin at 1 o'clock. Board members who will be hostesses for the occasion are Mrs. Roy Warnock, 9 East Laurel avenue; Mrs. William Jenkins, 411 Laurel boulevard; Mrs. Harry McFeaters, 206 Sumner avenue, and Mrs. George Lyon, 309 Euclid avenue.

WOLVES AUXILIARY HEARS CANCER TALK

Wolves auxiliary members enjoyed a dinner-program Monday evening at The Castleton.

Mrs. Jane McIlwraith, addressed the group on cancer and her talk was illustrated with a motion picture shown by John Boyles.

President, Mrs. John P. Prioletti, presided during the business. Details of the Christmas party scheduled for December 18, were given by Mrs. Julia Failla. The party will be in Donati's auditorium.

Christmas baskets will be filled this year. Mrs. James Scarazzo, Mrs. Humbert Fazzone and Mrs. Frank Moretti being the committee.

An informal program of card playing followed. January 4 is the next meeting, at which time installation of officers will take place.

GARDEN COUNCIL HEARS MRS. HELLER

A beautifully appointed luncheon was the first in a series of pleasing events that took place when members of the Garden Council of Lawrence County met in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church on Wednesday afternoon with the Walmo Garden club as the hostess club.

Mrs. William Mooney and Mrs. Samuel Mooney, members of the Walmo Garden club, demonstrated their ingenuity by constructing the table centerpiece which was a replica of Santa Claus perched in his sleigh and being drawn by miniature white reindeer. Mrs. W. C. Hileman, president of the Walmo Garden club, and Mrs. Richard Marquis, president of the Garden Council and member of the Walmo Garden club, poured.

Several unusual and appropriate arrangements were brought to the meeting by the members and voted upon by those present. Those placing in the seasonal arrangements were: first, Mrs. Wallace Wright, Oakwood Garden club; second, Mrs. Lyle Hughes, Walmo Garden club; third, Mrs. Roland Peden, Oakwood Garden club; fourth, Mrs. J. H. Vogan, Harlanburg Garden club; fifth, Mrs. J. B. Kennedy, East Side Garden club. Successful in capturing honors in the plant display were: first, Mrs. Leo Dover, Walmo Garden club; second, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Harbor Garden club; third, Mrs. T. G. Allen, conservation and garden department of Woman's club; fourth, Mrs. John Loudon, Lawrence County Garden club; fifth, Miss Anna Dietterle, East Side Garden club.

Approximately 60 ladies represented the various garden clubs at the meeting yesterday. Mrs. Richard Marquis presided over the business meeting. Secretary Mrs. John Loudon read an interesting letter from Mrs. E. L. Davenport of Somerville, N. J., a former member of Garden Council. She expressed thanks and appreciation for a gift which the members had sent her. Mrs. Davenport is a past president of the council. It was announced at the meeting that the Garden Forum of the Youngstown area will hold a Christmas show on December 14 at the Butler Art Institute, Youngstown, O. Theme will be "Christmas Carols At Home".

Guest speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Louis Heller, Jr., of Youngstown, O. Mrs. Heller inspired enthusiasm and a desire to perfect their skill in arranging in her audience as she adroitly constructed several original and outstanding Christmas arrangements. She emphasized the need for the proper equipment in making arrangements just as a good cook must have the right ingredients in concocting a tasty meal. Good tools are cheaper in the long run. Included in the necessary equipment for arranging are time wire, long pointed pincers, a sharp kitchen knife, scotch tape, hooks, tube for orchids, shears, floral tape to give a professional look to Christmas corsages, thumb tacks, plastic foam, heavy Blue Ribbon holders, spiked holders, aluminum foil and plastic fringe. These articles combined in various ways will make unusual Christmas decorations for use throughout one's home.

In assembling units, one must think of a theme to carry out after the equipment is ready. Mrs. Heller advocated the use of a theme throughout the house for yuletide decorations. First, the colors must be decided upon, then the theme, whether swag, wreaths, bells, crescents, etc. Mrs. Heller emphasized that in a design the outline must always be accomplished first. Foliage for use in arrangements includes lycopodium, bay berries, juniper, eucalyptus, sea oats, mistletoe, holly berries, balsam and evergreen sprays.

Mrs. Heller left with her receptive audience several ideas for original designs to be used in decorations in their homes for the holiday season.

'RELIGIOUS ART' TO BE TOPIC FOR A. A. U. W.

American Association of University Women will assemble in the faculty lounge of McGill Library at Westminster college Thursday evening, December 15, when a timely program will be offered. Prof. Charles Dietrich, head of the art department of Westminster college, will discuss the theme, "Modern Religious Art."

Miss Mabel Kocher, Mrs. J. I. Reaney, Miss Mona Sowash and Mrs. Hazel Wilson, composing the creative arts committee, are responsible for arranging the program.

Miss Margaret Duff, Miss Arlene Risher, Miss Jane Hawkins and Miss Jane Kerr will be hostesses for the evening.

YULE DINNER HELD BY MOTHERS' CLASS

Holiday festivities highlighted the meeting of the Mother's class of the Primitive Methodist church when they held their annual Christmas dinner in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Invocation was given by the class teacher, Mrs. H. O. Fichter.

Gay Christmas decorations were featured at the table marked for 22 guests. A special guest of the event was Mrs. Mary Roberts. The table centerpiece consisted of Mrs. Arthur Folts, Mrs. Anna Hoyland, Mrs. George Ashton, Mrs. Harry Ashton, Mrs. Chaucer Yoho, Mrs. Clarence Gettings and Mrs. Delbert Montgomery.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Delbert Montgomery, who read the story of the Christ Child. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Clarence Gettings.

Mrs. Edward Hoyland presented the pleasing holiday program. A piano solo was presented by Mrs. Ira Blair and a humorous reading was given by Mrs. Joe MacKenzie entitled "Ma Makes Merry." Favorable Christmas carols were sung by the assembly.

President, Mrs. George Smith, thanked the teacher and officers for their cooperation during the past year and presented the teacher, Mrs. Fichter, with a gift, who in turn responded graciously for the lovely remembrance. Secretary Mrs. Clara Bowen, was also the recipient of a gift from the group. The members of the class held a gift exchange.

January 5 will mark the next meeting date to be held in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB PLANS YULE DINNER

Members of the North Beaver Garden club will hold their annual Christmas dinner at the Westfield Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, December 14, at 6:30 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCombs, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Andrews compose the committee for arrangements.

SOROSIS MEMBERS PLAN TEA PROGRAM

Mrs. Daniel Woolcock, 316 Sumner avenue, will entertain the Sorosis club at her home Friday, December 9, when a tea, gift exchange and program will be featured. The afternoon "Names of Christmas Carols" will be given in response to roll call. Mrs. Thomas Lindsey will offer a Christmas reading.

The program committee, composed of Mrs. Woolcock, Miss Maude Young, Mrs. A. W. Zeigler, Mrs. John R. Bigler, Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell and Mrs. John L. Emery, is responsible for arrangements.

W. C. B. Class Has Party

W. C. B. class of Wesley Methodist church enjoyed a Yule party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Fred Driver, of Carlisle street. Devotions were led by Mrs. William Ayers, while Mrs. W. H. Britton offered prayer.

Mrs. R. G. Leslie presided when several projects, including a dinner in January for the building fund, were planned.

Officers, re-elected for the coming year, are: President, Mrs. R. G. Leslie; vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Graham; secretary, Mrs. E. R. Bacon; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Perkins; and reporter, Mrs. N. M. Raymond. Mrs. Joseph Patterson is chairman of the sick committee. Mrs. W. H. Britton, teacher of the group, is aided by Mrs. Thomas Alexander, assistant teacher.

Using seasonal decorations, the hosts, aided by the Misses Marie Hulton and Anna Lowery, who were guests, served a tasty lunch. Mrs. W. Graham, of South Lee avenue, will entertain at her home Tuesday evening, January 3.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS

The Federal Reserve Board has cheering news for us. In a recent bulletin it declared that our economic machine had righted itself after its recent tail-spin and we are on our way to greater heights of prosperity. The total business now is only three per cent less than it was at this time in 1948 and is ninety per cent ahead of 1939.

Moreover the people are indulging in a new spending spree. They are spending $93.10 out of each hundred dollars after taxes are paid as compared with $91.60 in the first quarter of this year and $92.30 in the third quarter of 1948. It has also been reported that consumer income is now mounting to the rate of $210 billion a year.

The report indeed presents a cheerful picture and one which, as good Americans, we hope will continue to grow brighter. There is, of course, another side to it. Our government has gone back into deficit spending, and higher taxes may be in the offing. Furthermore, many foreign nations have devalued their money and are increasing their own production which promises sooner or later to make things tough for us.

Still it is a fact that business has picked up again and the people are spending even more freely than a year ago. There may be more than one reason why they are doing this. Some may be taking inspiration from the Federal government which is certainly on a spending spree, while others may be acting on the theory that since the purchasing power of the dollar is growing less it might be as well to get rid of the cash as soon as possible. But the majority, probably, with true American optimism, may be spending because they think things will always be as they are today.

Certainly good business always makes it tough for the political party which happens to be out of power and in the present case it is the Republican party. Prosperity, especially on the farms, played a big factor in the election of President Truman in 1948. The big farmers were getting high prices and without a thought of the ultimate future, decided to string along with the administration.

If the present good times continue throughout next year the GOP will have a tough time winning Congress in 1950. On the other hand if there is a slump—despite government spending, the voters will take it out on the Truman administration.

Of course, political thinking ought to go deeper than the current condition of the pocketbook but unfortunately in too many instances it doesn't.

INHALE

Readers of the current issue of "Natural History," the magazine of the New York Museum of Natural History, will not find it necessary to stir from their easy chairs to smell a familiar outdoorsy odor. It is the pungent odor of pine woods wafted up from the printer's ink on the pages.

Everybody is aware of the uses of perfume for gilding-the-lily jobs. Everybody knows what most perfume is used for, and it's not for the printed word. But there have been other uses. Christmas cards have been given a piney smell. Fire insurance companies have been known to send out advertising literature with just a touch of the odor of burned wood in it.

How far can this idea go, anyway? Talking with a printing ink expert, we mentioned that if there was one odor we liked, it was the smell of the inside of a new car. "That's being taken care of," he said. "Right now a firm is getting ready to put the new-car smell on the market in a spray can. But owners are likely to discover it will take more than that to make an old japoly run like a new car, aren't they?"

Chemists are hard at work making products smell better as well as look better. Maybe it is a case of over-coming an unpleasant odor in a new shower curtains. Or it's making an outdoor magazine smell like pine trees. But there is no cause for alarm as long as the final tests are not made by people with colds in the head.

AN OVERSTUFFED LOBBY LIST

There are times when statistics can hit you with a shock. Disclosures by Library of Congress research that lobbyists in Washington during 1947 and 1948 outnumbered Congressmen three to one provides such an occasion.

This preponderance affords some idea, though only an imperfect one, of the enormous pressure imposed upon Representatives and Senators on behalf of a huge variety of special interests and groups.

Some of nearly 1600 individuals required to register as lobbyists protested they are not in that category, but merely represent "large corporations."

But there is a possible cure for excessive lobbying. Even if they are so outnumbered members of Congress can make a sizable dent in the lobbying situation by listening more intently to their constituents and the needs of the country than to a swarm of seekers after favors for organized groups.

Too many citizens do not live up to the Chinese axiom: "It is better to keep one's mouth closed and be thought a fool than to open it and remove all doubt."

The Shah of Iran made the wrong speech in New York, but this is unimportant. He had already made the one in Washington requesting $250,000,000.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The whole question of present and future German militarism was thrown wide open today with reports from Berlin of a vast Soviet plan to establish a "satellite army."

Such a program could not possibly eliminate eastern Germany. And dispatches thus far received make it clear that the Russians are determined to integrate not only German man and woman power but industry and economy as well into the formation of a force totaling between three and four million troops.

Framed As Answer
Quite obviously, the program is being framed as an answer to the western union defense arrangement. The first move was taken when Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky was made Polish war minister and army chief. Similar appointments are expected to be announced for Hungary and Romania in the near future.

And Czechoslovakia will take its place as the pivotal point of command. Prague will rank in the Soviet picture as Fontainebleau does in the west and the Russians will seek to achieve a solidarity of purpose and performance equal to that planned by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and his staff.

The one peculiar part of the picture is that everyone recognizes that Germany must take an increasingly important part in the affairs of Europe.

And western Germany, at least, has gone on record in opposition to any rearmament.

Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer's statement that his regime at Bonn will stand firm against any use of Germans as soldiers in west Europe's defense coincided with a Polish charge that the western allies plan to use them as mercenaries.

One Polish spokesman at the United Nations said that on his recent visit to the United States, Montgomery has "found his Hessians"—meaning Germans who were pressed into service or hired.

New Controversy
Thus a new controversy in the divided world has opened and there threatens to be bitter arguments and interchanges.

It remains to be seen whether the average German has any real desire for a new war or even for the military life with all the regimentation that it entails despite the privileges that always have been part of it under the Prussian system.

From available information, it seems that the east zone Germans who have been taken on by the Russians as an armed police force that has all the trappings of old-line militarism have not been lacking in enthusiasm.

But they may have been faced

FLOOR SHOW

You may have your floor shows nightly
Where the lights are shining
And the ceremony master says:
"Let's give the gal a cheer!"
But the floor show I am choosing,
Far more wholesome and amusing,
Is the one the children offer
When to watch it I appear.

"Want a show?" they cry in chorus
"Mother's made the costumes for us."
Soon a cowboy foils the robbers
Who are after hidden gold.
And a little lady dances;
Let me add the way she prances
And does flip-flops on the carpet
Is most thrilling to behold.

That's a floor show that is greater Than any those where some spectator
With a loud voice and bad manners,
Plays the nuisance to the close.
For the home place is serene
And the songs and acts are cleaner,
Which is why I'm sure the children
Give the merriest of shows.

Folks Of Fame

Born in Portland, Ore., Aug. 25, 1875, Blanche Bates became a well-known stage actress, making her debut in San Francisco in 1894, playing in The Picture. Stock came next, then New York, where she appeared with the late Augustin Daly. She played in Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew and As You Like It. In The School for Scandal, as Miladi in The Musketeers. She was Cho-Cho-San in Madame Butterfly and scored another big success. She was also Cigarette in Under Two Flags. Hedda Gabler and The Girl of the Golden West were others. She died in 1941.

Gen. Casimir Pulaski, Polish soldier, was born in 1748. He took a prominent share, under his father, in formation of a Polish confederation and the military operations that followed. He became commander-in-chief of Polish patriots. Driven into exile about 1772, he came to America and joined Gen. George Washington's army, distinguished himself so that he was made brigadier-general and chief of cavalry by United States Congress. He fought at Germantown and in battles of the winter of 1777-78. Then he raised a mixed corps named after him with which he defended Charleston. He was mortally wounded at Savannah.

NE-CA-HI A CAPPELLA CHOIR TO PRESENT CANTATA

A sacred cantata, "The Shepherds' Christmas," will be presented by the Senior High School A Cappella Choir on the evening of December 15 at 8:15 in the high school auditorium. The members of the choir and their conductor, Edward C. Book, would greatly appreciate your supporting the choir by being present for this program.

The composer of this musical work is Morten J. Luvaas, music department head at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. He is also conductor of the college choir there, the well known "Allegheny Singers."

The A Cappella Choir has as soloists for this Christmas program, the following students from the choir:
Mary Lou Street, soprano
Delores Huska, soprano
Ruth Simon, alto
Walter Jenkins, tenor

The choir has been rehearsing industriously for some time in order that they might be able to present a program worthy of the true meaning of Christmas.

Your presence in the auditorium next Thursday evening will be greatly appreciated, and we feel sure that you will go away feeling that it was a worthwhile musical evening.

Don't forget to place a circle around the date of December 15 for "The Shepherds' Christmas."

Bundle For Britain?

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Differences Between U. S. And Britain

LONDON, England, Dec. 8.—Henry Ford II visited London not long ago with a proposal to build a large new Ford plant. This led to a controversy which illustrates the striking differences between America and Britain today.

Ford wanted to build a plant near the present Ford factory at Dagenham. But Dagenham is rated by the government as an area of acute shortage in both manpower and housing.

Ford was told that a new payroll of ten thousand or more at Dagenham would produce a jerry-built town that would quickly degenerate into a slum. That is contrary to the planning concept of the Socialist government, which will seek re-election in the new year.

The controls applied by Labor ministers who have extraordinarily broad powers often seem not merely irksome and irritating, but downright self-defeating. A tourist who wants to buy goods with dollars and take them back to America finds himself snarled in tape that makes it all but impossible.

Loss of $60,000,000
The transport commission operating the nationalized transport system has just announced that the current year will most likely see a loss of $60,000,000. This means a substantial increase in freight charges, and that in turn threatens a drive to reduce production costs so exports can be sent out to earn dollars.

It is not surprising that, by a hard-boiled rule of thumb, the position of Britain in the recent past has been judged hopeless. At the outset is the fact that these crowded islands hold from five to ten million more in population than can be sustained without imports for which, under the present

More To Lose

The fact is that the U. S. A. has almost more to lose than western Europe by splitting off. An economic crisis in America would almost certainly follow. Fear and suspicion, with a resulting curtailment of fundamental liberties, would follow.

In order to counter the economic crisis, emphasis would most likely be placed on increasing armaments. In defensive isolation, America would drift toward war as Russia increased and consolidated her area of total control. The end would be a disaster which the strained fabric of western civilization could hardly survive.

The Marshall Plan has bought time to understand these things. It has brought western Europe to a plateau of recovery that few had considered possible two years ago. From that plateau, further obstacles to final recovery and stability are now visible.

Unless a new approach and new attack are soon forthcoming, the threat is that the world will slip back into the morass again. It will be no easy task to take considerably more patience and understanding than has thus far been shown. The temptation will always be to abandon hopeless old Europe.

Absolute Essential

A partnership with the western nations, and particularly with Britain, seems to me an absolute essential for survival of the values we hold in common. For this reason, it is profoundly disturbing to observe the prolonged, quibbling over sharing of atomic know-how and resources. Neanderthal men, moved by primitive suspicion, can sabotage every effort at a practical understanding.

In partnership, Europe has tangible assets of high value, foremost being its geography. But there also are intangible assets that match those of America.

One is the deep-rooted belief in the values of a free society that are real and vital here despite economic controls. And another is its patience, which today, at this half-way point, is a prime requisite to temper America's force and power in the world and insure that it will be used for peace and well-being.

They Say

CHICAGO—Dr. Herman Kretschmer, former head of the American Medical Association: "Not only the practice of medicine, but our entire economy is being pushed into a Socialistic state under the guise of 'welfare.' The welfare state may well be the farewell to our American way of life."

NEW YORK—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, leaving for Russia: "On leaving the United States I wish the American people good luck and a happy new year."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.): "An alliance of Republicans and southern Democrats would be a move in the wrong direction. The party of Lincoln must be the party of civil rights."

State Police Say:

A new car owner already knows how to drive and present being "instructed." They originally learned to drive by the Three S's, starting, steering and stopping. The habits our older drivers learned for an earlier day of slower and fewer cars no longer hold good in the modern age of high speed driving and heavy traffic. Many drivers have failed to keep abreast of the new laws—new conditions call for new driving habits.

Especially For 'Teen Agers

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

This is the first time I've ever written a column for 'teen-agers. This column is written for boys who are 16, 17, 18 and 19 years old.

It is not a column telling them how to behave on dates, or how to win the affections of their sweetheart's old man, or how to sneak out the family car when they're only supposed to have it two nights a week. I wish that my message to the 'teen-agers could be as light and as trivial as the subjects I've mentioned above. But it can't be.

I want the boys between the ages of 16 and 20 to take out an atlas and look at a place called Formosa.

Key Island In Pacific

It's a rather key island in the Pacific, and we're going to let the Chinese Communists have it. You boys I'm talking to are going to have to take it back.

The chances are that some of you who read this will die taking back Formosa, and that's a shame. You wouldn't have to take back Formosa if this country was not so completely sold on turning the other cheek all the time. There are crosses on Wake Island because this country wouldn't take care of its own. There's American blood all over Bataan because of the same reason.

You kids are going to have to do again what Americans should never have to do—you're going to have to attack when you should be able to defend.

What's wrong in letting an American soldier have an even chance just for once? Is our whole foreign policy based on the theory that Americans love to attack fortified positions? Do they work in Washington on the thought that American boys and men love to get killed without an equal chance? If that's what's going on in Washington, then Washington's crazy.

Honestly, the average American can't figure out his own country. We had better change the name of this place that we live in, because the United States today is not the same sort of country it was when the name was given to it.

The United States of America was founded and developed by men who felt that independence was the most precious thing in the world. Glad to die for it. Willing to get up at any hour of the night to yell at anyone who challenged it.

Not The Way This Country Is Today

That's not the way this country is today. If something isn't done, if millions of us don't stand up and say we will not be herded like sheep, we're going to be herded like sheep.

The time is not long away when, just as they're doing in Britain, Americans will be told where they will spend their vacations, the job they can work at, the houses they can build, and the food they can eat.

Don't say it can't happen here. It has happened in England, and the English are undoubtedly the most stubborn and proud race in the world. So if it can happen in England, it's a mortal cinch it can happen here.

We allow ourselves to be slapped in the face by China. We grovel on the ground before Russia, at the same time admitting that Russia is run by brigands and has no conception of decency. We openly admit that we're the greatest country in the world, which we are, and yet we do not dare take the position of leading the world.

Until we do, there'll be no happiness in this world. The decency on this earth revolves around the forty-eight states. It is high time that we started acting as if we knew where we stood.

But to get back to what I started to tell you 'teen-aged boys, get hep on Formosa. You're going to have to fight for it.

I wish I could have General Douglas MacArthur's opinion on letting Formosa go.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Dear Jane—
Bill and I are so terribly tired of the city. We just can't stand it another minute. May we come out to your place for the weekend—just for a rest, for some of the wonderful country air—and to get away from it all for even a couple of days?"
Love,
Ruth."

That is the note Jane, one of our friends out here in the country, got last week from a cousin in New York City.

Of course, she couldn't say no, and she likes Jane and Bill, her husband. So she wrote back and said, "Come, by all means."
So Saturday afternoon Walter, Jane's husband, met Ruth and Bill at the train and took them to his lovely country home.

After the usual greetings and salutations, they all sat down and talked about this and that, dinner not being ready for a couple of hours.

After a while Jane noticed that Ruth was fidgeting quite a bit and Bill didn't seem any too happy. Then she remembered.

"Could I offer you a little drink?" she suggested.

Both guests perked up. "That would be lovely," they chimed—and until dinner several highballs helped to while away the time.

The dinner was nice, and after it Walter suggested a little walk. "It's wonderful out here," he said, "there's a full moon and the fresh air will do you good."

Ruth was terribly sorry, but she hadn't changed into her country clothes yet, and you know what walking with high-heeled shoes is. Couldn't they have their lovely walk tomorrow when they'd get the full benefit of the sunshine and all that sort of thing?

And Bill seconded the motion, adding that the dinner had been so wonderful he was too full for walking, anyway.

So they played Canasta till one in the morning and, having had six or seven drinks during the evening, they were too tired to get up before noon the next day.

In the meantime Jane and Walter had gone to church and when they returned Ruth and Bill were sitting in the living room, each with a highball in their hands. Then came Sunday dinner and another few games of Canasta.

Bill and Ruth had intended to stay until the Monday morning train back to the city.

But suddenly Bill remembered a very important business engagement in New York early the next morning, which would make it absolutely necessary for him to take the five o'clock train the very afternoon.

Ruth agreed. "We'd love to stay," she said, "it's so heavenly out here and we are having such a marvelous time. But you know what business is these days."

So they left on the five o'clock. Neither Ruth nor Bill had set foot outside for that "wonderful country air," nor had they done one single thing they could not have done in New York City.

There is no moral to this story—but does it sound familiar?

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Stanley Frank and Paul Sann tell a classic story about a cub reporter in Johnstown, Pa., at the time of the disastrous flood in 1889. The first flash reached the nearest big-time newspaper office late at night when only this newest addition to the staff—a droopy young just out of school—was on tap. The editor hustled him to the scene of catastrophe, and spent the next hour in a frenzied effort to get his veteran reporters on the job.

By then it was too late, however. All wires were down, and the valley was isolated. For twenty-four hours the only reporter in the devastated area was one green beginner!

The press of America waited feverishly for his first report. Finally it began to trickle in over the telephone. "God sits upon a lonely mountain top tonight and gazes down upon a desolate Johnstown. The roar of swirling waters echoes through . . ." The editor tore his hair and rushed a wire back to his poet laureate: "Okay. Forget flood. Interview God. Rush pictures."

No Serious Drought Prospect In State

By ED HAUCK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Winter water supplies in Pennsylvania are lower than last year, but stores are sufficient today to avoid a serious drought.

Weather and agriculture officials said most of the water used in urban areas is drawn from waterways unlike New York and New Jersey which depend on lakes and reservoirs.

The rain and snow which will fall during the winter will determine the water level for next spring and early summer, according to agriculture officials.

No Emergency

Lack of rainfall has lowered watermarks but not enough to create an emergency similar to that experienced in many large north-eastern cities, weathermen said.

Agriculture authorities reported that well supplies in some rural sections in western and central counties have diminished to the extent that farmers are hauling water from creeks for livestock.

Sub-soil moisture is generally low in rural localities and while sufficient to feed winter wheat and grass, it is inadequate to replenish wells and streams.

Light rainfall during late September and October is blamed for the present predicament by state agriculture officials.

"During the period from May through November our records show a departure of 5.18 inches from the state's normal precipitation," reported Leslie F. Conover, head of the U. S. Weather Station at Harrisburg.

"Although this may seem unusual we do not consider it a radical deficiency nor does it represent a drought situation," he explained.

Western Pennsylvania has felt the brunt of the dry spell with 5.22 during the seven months period. Northeastern Pennsylvania recorded only 1.88 inches less than normal while southeastern districts averaged 3.93 below normal, according to weather bureau statistics.

In the Philadelphia area, the weather bureau reported a surplus of three inches of rainfall to date this year with slightly below par precipitation for October and November.

No immediate danger is anticipated in Scranton and the Wyoming Valley. Spring fed lakes and reservoirs keep the pressure above the demand.

As a result of the Lancaster county shortage, 40 per cent of examined farm wells were found contaminated.

County directors on the Board of Health are making daily analyses and reports of well water. Farmers are advised of the condition of their supplies.

Decreased pressure in Marietta is being built up from water pumped three miles from Columbia which draws its water from the Susquehanna river.

TRICK NEW TOYS AT LOWER COST

SPOKANE, Wash.—Christmas, 1949 promises good news for the children and also for father, who pays the bills.

L. D. DeLauder, toy buyer for a large Spokane department store, reports there will be many more types of toys to make the youngsters eyes light up. What's more they will be cheaper, too, with the possible exception of electric trains.

DeLauder said dolls show a marked improvement this year. They are larger and much more talented. For instance, instead of merely crying out "Mamma," they will say "Pick me up, Mamma." Then later the doll will say "Mamma, put me down."

A new novelty type toy that should make a hit with the children is a magnetized mamma pig which automatically draws her babies close at dinner time.

The atomic age is reflected in this year's toys. Hundreds of new chemical sets and youngsters' games which require real scientific skill to play will be on the shelves. DeLauder said wooden toys have been replaced by plastic because the latter has a "warm touch" which children like.

This year "Mama's little helper" is going to get miniature household furnishings that actually work. Electric vacuum cleaners will be real things, although they are small enough for little girls to handle.

Doll houses are expected to be more complete. Plastic dishes have been created to resemble fragile stemware.

DeLauder said the emphasis would be on cowboy paraphernalia for boys this Christmas. There will be Roy Rogers guns, holsters, lariats, cuffs, gloves, real leather chaps and vest sets.

Something new are the toy automobiles which for the first time will be scale replicas of full-size cars of all popular makes.

Mrs. Chambers Takes Stand In Hiss Trial

Corroborates Testimony Of Husband That Hiss And Chambers Were Friends

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Mrs. Esther Chambers, under cross-examination at the perjury trial of Alger Hiss, stuck to her story of friendly relations between the Hiss and Chambers families between 1935 and the end of 1937.

She corroborated previous testimony by her husband, Whittaker Chambers, one-time Communist courier, that he and Hiss, a former State department official, were close friends.

Chambers has charged that Hiss smuggled secret government documents to him in 1938 for transmission to a Soviet spy ring.

Mrs. Chambers was a bit vague at times about dates but she recited many instances when the Hisses and the Chambers went around together. She mentioned little incidents such as she and Mrs. Priscilla Hiss visiting a soda fountain. She remarked that Mrs. Hiss "didn't like ice cream."

All morning, Defense Attorney Claude B. Cross pounded away at Mrs. Chambers. He re-read portions of her testimony at the first Hiss trial in an effort to show inconsistencies.

SPECIAL WEEK

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today designated the week of December 12-17 as "First Aid and Accident Prevention Week."

Duff said the week was to commemorate the nation's pioneer first aid training program which originated at a Jermyn, Lackawanna county, colliery 5d years ago.

The first aid movement branched out into an important part of first aid training programs of the American Red Cross as well as federal and state governmental agencies," he said.

Washington

Emphasis Now On Defense Plan

Military Strategists Change Attitude Since Announcement Russia Has A Bomb

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Revelation that Russia has the A-bomb has brought military strategists to two conclusions: (1) emphasis now must be on defense with development of ways to intercept a bomb-carrying plane, and (2) there never will be another such amphibious operation as the Normandy invasion.

Planners are convinced that guided missiles have not yet reached the stage of dependable delivery of an atomic blast. Pushbutton war still is a long way off.

However, in a large air attack, it is considered that two or three planes could elude attackers and reach their targets. Besides putting a new urgency on protection of cities, this fact rules out future amphibious operations.

But there will have to be smaller landings at scattered weak points—for military men remain convinced that no enemy can be beaten without having our troops take the land he stands on.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE WORRIES

Concern is being expressed privately in some official circles over lack of progress in carrying forward programs for mobilization and civilian defense in case of war.

Nothing is being said publicly, but underneath the surface is a feeling that President Truman is not giving these matters the attention they deserve.

Three big defense boards are without chairmen. They are National Security Resources, Munitions, and Defense Research and Planning.

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman is acting chairman of Security Resources. But he simply has too many other things to do. The "co-ordinating" agency has done little co-ordinating.

The munitions board has been without a chairman since last June. Dr. Karl Compton resigned Nov. 10 as chairman of the Research and Planning board.

REWARDS FOR ANTI-BUREAUCRATS

Senator B. Russell Long (D), Louisiana, believes the government can save money for taxpayers by using something of radios' "give-away" methods to reward government workers who think up good answers to economy problems.

Long came back to Washington to see what agencies are doing about the "reward" clause he riveted into the pay-boost bill. That provision directs the agencies to reward workers who come with good money-saving ideas.

The workers' jackpot might be as much as $1,000 in cash, or a boost in salary—with the reward not to exceed more than 10 per cent of what the idea saved, however.

Long pointed out that the efficient expense-cutters get ahead in private business. He wants more of that in government, which, he said, would be the reverse of bureaucratic "empire building" aims of always enlarging personnel. He said:

"I think we should apply the private business system to the federal government—and borrow some ideas from the radio give-away programs."

dent William Green's trip to Europe had a lot to do with the 11th hour strike postponement of an Atlantic coast shipping strike.

The AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union was all set to strike. At the same time, Green—who never rides planes—was all set to sail to London three days later to attend a trade union conference.

It would have been embarrassing for the AFL chief to have to cross a picket line and board even a foreign-operated vessel. Lewis Hines, AFL trouble-shooter and aide to Green, made a surprise appearance at the government mediation parley. The walk-out was postponed at the last minute. Green then had clear sailing, crossed by no picket lines, for his London trip.

GOITER

There is a big gland in the front part of the neck under Adam's apple. It is called the thyroid.

When it goes wrong the disease is usually called goiter. There are several different diseases of the thyroid.

Sometimes it enlarges and a big lump appears on the front of the neck.

Sometimes with thyroid disease it does not show any lump at all but there are very distressing symptoms.

The thyroid has been a hard problem for the doctors for a long time.

Recent developments have given the profession some hope that some of these thyroid troubles may be prevented.

Cancer May Take Eyesight

Blame Tourists For Bogus Bills

MEXICO CITY—(INS)—Counterfeit United States currency is appearing in increasing numbers in Mexico City, and police suspect it is brought by tourists from Europe.

Black markets in France, Spain and Poland are said to be the sources of these bills, whose denominations are usually $10, $20 and $100.

Since Mexico bank clerks and others who might receive them are relatively unfamiliar with American currency, several forgers have had the daring simplicity to change the figures on, say, a $50 bill to $500 or to raise a $10 bill to $100.

or $1,000. In general, they have been successful.

One Polish family, arriving in Mexico with $8,000 they had managed to save in U. S. currency, discovered they had been victimized by this type of fraud and had suffered a loss of more than $400 through counterfeit bills.

U. S. Treasury representatives have supplied banks and other tourist spots throughout northern Mexico with photostatic copies of American currency because of a recent flood of fake bills appearing in Torreon, San Luis Potosi and Monterrey.

Turkey Price Support Plan Is Amended

Other News Of Farm Affairs As Secured From Agriculture Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Agriculture department has amended the 1949 turkey price support program to permit producers and cooperative organizations to sell turkeys processed between August 1-December 31, 1949, to the Commodity Credit Corporation in July 1950.

The amendment will allow producers and the coops to store turkeys before the first of next year. If the turkeys are not sold commercially before next July 1 they may be unloaded on the government at support-level prices which prevailed through the August 1-December 31 period.

The department, meanwhile, in review of the egg and poultry market during November made these observations:

Shell egg prices dropped as demand fell short of rising fresh supplies; chicken markets were irregular with prices generally slightly lower, were firm at advanced prices; and storage stocks of all dressed poultry showed rapid seasonal increases.

Production of alfalfa has soared by 50 per cent in the past 10 years. This is reported in a revised edition of the "Farmers' Bulletin, Growing Alfalfa" now available on request to the department or members of Congress.

The brochure offers new advice on alfalfa inoculation and outlines strategy against harmful insects—namely the grasshopper, the worst insect of alfalfa.

The REA reported that nearly 5,000 farm families in eight states will be brought electricity for the first time through loans of nearly four and one-half million dollars approved to 11 rural electric coops in the past week by the REA.

Those communities receiving the loans were Columbus, Ind.; Havre, Mont.; Enfield, N. C.; Gaffney, S. C.; Lake Andes, S. D.; Philips, Wis.; Owenton, Paducah, Ky., and Rusk, Hondo and Gilmer, Tex.

The CCC announced purchase of nearly two million bushels of grain for the week ending December 3, bringing the cumulative total for the season (July-December) to date to more than 50 million bushels.

The department reported a change in minimum non-harvest wage rates during 1950 to be paid by Louisiana sugar cane producers applying for payments under the sugar act.

Wage increases become effective for each ten cent rise in the average price of raw sugar for a continuous two week period above $6 per one hundred pounds instead of $6.25 as was the case in 1949.

For each full 10 cents that the average price of raw sugar is above $6 or below $5.60, day wage rates will rise or fall five cents per day.

New Atom Plant Schedule Slower

IDAHO FALLS, Ida.—(INS)—Planning and construction of what is to be the nation's newest atomic energy installation is progressing, but quite slowly in contrast to development of earlier atom testing plants.

Schedule for development of the Atomic Energy Commission's projected atomic reactor testing station west of Idaho Falls calls for continuous individual contracts fitted into a pattern covering several years. Ultimate cost of the plant, located on a 400,000-acre tract of wasteland, has been set at half a billion dollars.

L. E. Johnston, operations manager with headquarters at Idaho Falls, said the construction would be gradually expanding without peaks of high-cost, high-speed work. He added:

"Since our construction program is geared to the nuclear reactor development work going on at AEC laboratories and in the drafting rooms and shops of AEC contractors, we have reasonably firm schedules for the next three to five years."

The southern Idaho plant is destined to develop atomic fission as a means of power for driving the wheels of industry—or of war.

Johnston reported that about 400 would be at work on the plant development by the end of 1949 and probably about 2,000 workers by the end of next year.

"The planned requirements of the reactor project," the manager explained, "permit us to develop the site in an orderly manner. A considerable amount of the $6,000,000 which we expect to commit by July 1, 1950 will be in jobs of about $100,000 each."

State's Resorts Arrange Winter Sports Program

Thousands Of Dollars Spent To Improve Indoor And Outdoor Facilities This Year

By ED HAUCK

(U. S. Staff Correspondent) HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Pennsylvania's mountain resorts are ready for the initial invasion of winter sports enthusiasts.

The State Commerce department reports vacationers already are sharpening skates and waxing skis in anticipation of jaunts to favorite winter spots now decked out with the latest in sports facilities.

More than a score of resorts spent thousands of dollars improving facilities, according to the department.

Ski Run Finished
The big Pocono mountain ski area will be open for full scale operations this year. The ski run near Tannersville was only partially completed last season.

The Highway department has assured vacationists that the state's 41,000 miles of modern highways will be kept open despite ice and snow.

For those not wishing to expose themselves to more strenuous activities many places now are equipped with old-fashioned bob-sledding teams of horses. A full program of indoor activities including motion pictures and games is planned by resort operators, commerce officials reported.

The Pocono mountains, in the northeastern section of the state, boasts the largest number of resorts but southwestern Pennsylvania will open many new spots this year, the Commerce department reported.

Add Flood Lights
Recent improvements among the older establishments include new shelters and new hiking trails, better graded and stone cleared slopes and flood lights for night skiing.

Holiday programs, planned in most winter centers, are directed with emphasis on guest participation, according to the department. Organized skiing, tobogganing, sledding, ski-joring and ice fishing are among the more rugged activities the sportsman may enjoy.

Professional and amateur skiers from all parts of the country are expected to enter the Pennsylvania State Ski Championships at Laurel mountain slopes near Ligonier February 4-5. The Western Pennsylvania Ski Championships will be run over the same course February 18-19.

Cabins Ready
For the Pennsylvanians wishing to take a short week-end in the mountain area, the state forest parks have small completely equipped cabins that may be rented for a few days.

The are outfitted with beds, cooking stoves, chairs, tables, and wood is furnished for the fireplace.

State's Population Passes 10,600,000

HARRISBURG — The United States Census estimate of population just released shows a total of 10,633,000 persons living in Pennsylvania as of July 1, 1949.

This includes persons in the armed forces overseas. The state's total civilian population is estimated to be 10,618,000.

The Census issues its estimate with a note of warning that, because of the length of time since the Census of 1940 and the lack of information about interstate movements during the ensuing year, these estimates must be accepted with reservation.

The fact, however, that the revised estimate of the Census (of 10,478,000 total population as of July, 1948) agrees closely with the independent estimate made by the State Planning Board for August of that same year (10,490,000) considerably strengthens confidence in the 1949 report.

If these figures are accepted, Pennsylvania's increase of total population since 1940 was 733,000, and its increase in civilian population alone was 722,000.

An increase of 733,000 to the State's population over a period of nine years should be compared with an increase of 268,830 in the ten years between 1930 and 1940. It represents an addition to the State's population of approximately as many persons as now inhabit Pittsburgh, the State's second largest city and more than the combined population of Delaware and Montgomery counties, the third and fourth largest counties in the Commonwealth.

Much Misery Among Peoples Of World Food Leader States

United Nations Food And Agriculture Organization Head Tells Of Great Need In World

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The United Nations food and agriculture organization conference ended Wednesday, smarting under the accusation of its director general that it had failed to relieve the misery of the world's "have not" peoples.

Director General Morris E. Dodd told the homeward bound delegates that "millions of people will still be undernourished, ill clad and ill housed. The problem of feeding and housing the world's needy was left to the FAO's 18-nation executive council, which meets today to consider membership of a committee on commodity problems.

The committee was named in a substitute measure for Dodd's proposal that FAO set up an international commodity clearing house to channel surplus foods from producing countries "have not" nations.

The next meeting of the entire body will be in Rome, newly selected site of FAO headquarters, in 1951. The conference rejected at the minute a proposal that a special meeting be held in Washington next November.

During its more than two weeks of deliberation the conference admitted five new states—Israel, Sweden, Korea, Indonesia and Afghanistan—to boost membership total to 63. But it postponed action on Spain.

School Children Aid Watchman Mark Birthday Wednesday

Three hundred fifty boys and girls, all pupils at the Thaddeus Stevens grade school on the East Side helped mark the birthday of their congenial crossing watchman, Fred Wehr of Adams street, on Wednesday.

Although reaching the seventy-ninth milestone in his life, Mr. Wehr is just as active as a man many years his junior and to prove it, he was on the job four times on Wednesday directing the active youngsters back and forth across busy East Washington street.

In appreciation of the splendid job of directing the boys and girls through the traffic, the entire school took time out for a few minutes Wednesday to honor kind Mr. Wehr. The large group of youngsters assembled in the school downstairs hallway and sang numerous songs for him. After the songfest a token in the form of a beautiful basket of fruit was presented to Mr. Wehr with the happy birthday song sung.

Very few days, during the past six years the alert watchman has been on the job have been missed by him. He has been there rain or shine and intends to keep on the job as long as health permits.

Work among the underprivileged and handicapped in western Pennsylvania was discussed in a splendid talk given by Frank Bogart, of Pittsburgh, former New Castle man, who has a wide acquaintance with these folks.

Mr. Bogart, who is associated with an artificial limb company told how many folks who have lost the use of arms and legs, are rehabilitated and enabled to take a useful place in society.

In conclusion, he presented Mickey Russo, a young Pittsburgh youth, who although handicapped by the loss of both legs, has become an outstanding pianist. Young Mr. Russo played several selections on the piano.

No Danger Of Coffee Shortage

BOCA RATON, Fla., Dec. 8.—(INS)—George W. Muller, chief of the Commerce Department's Food division, said today that coffee prices have recently leveled off and that there is no danger of a shortage in the United States.

Muller, addressing the National Coffee Association, declared that U. S. stocks of coffee are only slightly under last year and that October rains have indicated a fair harvest in Brazil, where a shortage was feared.

Much of the recent increase in coffee prices have been blamed on speculation based on a reported deficiency in the Brazilian crop.

Once Vermin Ridden Dixie Jail Is Now Women's Civic Club

Ivy-covered Homerville, Ga., ex-jail now houses women's club.

By S. R. WINTERS

Central Press Correspondent

HOMERVILLE, Ga.—The poet who wrote "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage" may have indulged in poetic license. But here in Homerville, a one-time jail is now a women's club.

The red-brick, tile-roofed building, once honeycombed with prison cells, is now outfitted with a new piano, a polished desk, 40 mahogany chairs and a huge mirror.

This strange twist of a jail becoming luxurious quarters where women could gather to discuss civic matters, conduct song fests, and plan worthy town projects, stemmed from a combination of unrelated circumstances.

The original structure had no bath rooms, and the sewage system was wholly inadequate.

The county commissioners condemned the structure but in doing so they faced a dilemma—whether to raze the building at an almost prohibitive cost or let it remain unoccupied.

THE ODD IDEA of transforming the jail into club quarters was originated by Mrs. M. D. Dickson. The commissioners agreed to lease the building, not for the usual 99 years, but for a quarter of a century. The county retained nominal possession of a small room and leased the remainder of the jail for $1,500. However, the Women's club had only $500 in the bank.

It was decided to raise the remaining $1,000 through "Civic Improvement Certificates."

The Clint County News reported: "The club has issued Civic Improvement Certificates to the amount of $1,000. The bonds are $25 apiece, they bring 6 per cent interest, and come in series of one to six years. Over half of these bonds have been sold and it is the desire of the club to continue the sale throughout the next few days."

THE COST of renting the old jail was thus met. The citizens who bought the certificates have not demanded redemption of the bonds. These civic-minded folk have written off the account as an investment in their town's welfare and progress.

Meanwhile, this ex-prison has been landscaped with cedars, palms, shrubs, and flowers. It has a tall, double front door, with a three-foot-wide enclosed entrance, and floors and steps of concrete. The outmoded structure now has bath rooms, reception room, and modern kitchen equipment.

Where once "iron bars" did make "a cage," a piano thumps out music, and club members chit-chat about the town's civic growth and welfare.

The remodeled building, where once prisoners languished, has been shorn of its old cells, the walls cleaned and painted, and the traditional woman's touch almost lends beauty to the Maltese cross-shaped structure.

McConahy Elected School Board Head In Union Township

Board Holds Organization Meeting; J. H. Ellsworth Elected Vice President

Ralph McConahy was elected president of the Union Township School Board at the organizational meeting of the board in Union high school.

J. H. Ellsworth was elected vice president and three new members were sworn in at the meeting. Members sworn in were:

Ralph McConahy, Ray Bailey and Francis McPheeters. McPheeters has served an unfinished term of an elected member for the past several months and was elected for a full term this fall.

Another elected member, Frank Rudecil, was declared ineligible because of moving from the school district, leaving a vacancy on the board. The board will appoint a member to fill the vacancy within 30 days.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"Boning Up" on Boys

If you've learned to be honest with yourself, you'll probably admit that your eight-to-twelve-year-old boys are often a "pain in the neck." Fathers forget how once they behaved. Mothers may never have experienced the kind of mischief-making and "bad" behavior that Junior is going through.

Yet, it is perfectly normal for boys to play tricks on each other and on the rest of the family. They think it terribly funny to belch or make other crude noises and to do things that bother the neighbors.

Of course, we have to set some limits. At times a little discipline is in order. But this period of development will be a lot easier to take if we can only realize that "boys will be boys."

One fairly good way to prepare oneself for the ordeal is to go back and read some of the stories about "bad" boys. Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer," his "Huckleberry Finn," Booth Tarkington's "Penrod" and Aldrich's "Story of a Bad Boy" are all good textbooks for this job. The towns in which these youngsters grew up may have been different from your community. The times were different, too. But essentially, real boys are much the same.

Church Plans Family Dinner Event Friday

Arrangements have been completed for a great rally of the members and friends of the First Congregational church, 100 East Reynolds street, Friday evening.

The rally will open with a dinner program at 6 p.m. in the church parlors, followed by a song fest in the church auditorium. Griff Thomas will direct the singing, with Mrs. John M. Evans at the organ. Rev. Thomas J. Jones will preside.

The dinner is a part of the program for this month of special emphasis, which will culminate in a consecration rally on Sunday, January 1. Ladies day will be observed on Sunday morning, with the arrangements for this gathering supervised by the C.L.C. class of the Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Florie Davies. Mrs. Audrey Reider is president of the class.

A male chorus of 25 voices will do the musical honors. The pastor will deliver a special sermon to the ladies on "Corporate Guilt and Personal Responsibility." Mrs. Howard Bludorn is in charge of the committee of ladies and Mrs. Annie Davies is secretary.

Convicts Attempt Another Escape At Moundsville

Increased Guards Prevent Four Desperadoes From Gaining Freedom Saturday

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Warden Orel J. Skeen revealed that four of the 14 desperadoes who escaped the West Virginia state prison and Moundsville last June 3, were thwarted in another attempt to flee.

Skeen said the escape attempt occurred last Saturday night, but details were kept secret until today.

The four men in some unknown manner obtained tools to saw out of their solitary confinement cages. Skeen said, and attacked a guard. Other guards came to his rescue, however, and the men were returned to solitary confinement.

Long Termers

Skeen identified the prisoners as Elmer Tichnell, 28, of Wood county, W. Va., serving life for armed robbery; Stanley Sheftic, 33, Hancock county, life, habitual criminal act; Donald Wurster, 23, Ohio county, 30 years, armed robbery and kidnapping; John Valyko, 36, Brook county, life, habitual criminal.

They were in the group of fourteen prisoners who fled the state prison last June and terrorized the Panhandle of West Virginia, eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania for several days during a widespread manhunt.

Skeen said an investigation is underway to determine how the men got the tools. He credited additional guards, who were put on duty after the June escape, with preventing the desperadoes from getting free once more.

OLD BUT AMBITIOUS
REIDSVILLE, Ga.—An 87-year-old woman just arrived at the state penitentiary here said "I will be so glad when I get out so I can go on the ball and have some fun." Her name and crime was not reported by "The Spokesman," a magazine issued by prison inmates.

MOTHER'S CLUB

On Thursday afternoon members of the Mothers' club entertained their children at a lovely Christmas party. Fourteen mothers and 24 children attended the party which was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Gruenwald. The home was beautifully decorated with a tree and a musical sleigh and a musical church along with many other seasonal decorations. The children enjoyed a variety of games. There was a gift exchange and a tasty Christmas lunch.

BRIDGE CLUB

The Turbulent Thirteen club met on Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Melvin Moorhouse. Four tables of bridge were in play with Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. John Gruenwald capturing the high score prizes. Mrs. Glenn Eppinger held the low score tally. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. John Gruenwald was a special guest. Names were drawn for a Christmas gift exchange.

DECORATION CONTEST

A Christmas Decoration contest is being held for all residents of the New Bedford school district. The contest will be sponsored by the New Bedford Lions Club. Prizes of ten, five and three dollars will be awarded for the three best entries. There are no charges of fees. To be eligible just fill in an official entry blank. Blanks are being distributed through the school and churches and are available at Guillery's, Dittmer's, Eppinger's and New Bedford Auto Co. Entries must be in the contest boxes in the above named places or mailed to the New Bedford Lions club before 6 p. m. December 21. Judging will be from December 22 to December 24.

FELLOWSHIP

Mrs. Howard Spencer entertained the Fellowship group in her home on Thursday evening. Roll call was answered by a charades. During the business meeting it was decided to pack Christmas boxes for shut-in members of the church. The group will meet in the church on Sunday afternoon, December 18, to pack the boxes. Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted in serving by Mrs. Billie Biddle.

NEW BEDFORD NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. John Sliska of Fayette, O., called on Miss Fay Wilcox and Mel Gregg Saturday afternoon.

The meeting of the Philathea Mission circle scheduled for last Thursday evening was postponed due to the weather.

The teachers and officers of the United Presbyterian church met in the church on Monday evening to plan for their Christmas. It will probably be with the cantata by the community chorus and the candlelight service to be in the U. P. church on Christmas evening, December 25.

The Christmas program in the Presbyterian church is scheduled for Friday evening, December 23. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Whiting were Sunday dinner guests of Claude Swartz at Greenfield.

Mrs. William Morris who underwent an operation on Wednesday is recovering as rapidly as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Wallace were among those from here who attended the Boy Scout tureen dinner at the Cathedral on Saturday evening. In all there were 27 scouts and parents from New Bedford attending.

Misses Erma and Phyllis Rowan were weekend guests of their cousins, Misses Janet and Elizabeth Graham, who are students at Grove City college.

Lee Crawford is ill at his home. Mr. and Mrs. George Dieter called on Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gleaser of Youngstown Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawford and Linda spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hix and family of Punxsutawney.

LATE DELIVERY COSTLY

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 7.—(INS)—A hat is not a stylish hat when it's too late for the trade.

So ruled the Luzerne county court today in directing the Railway Express company to pay the Hickory Hat Co. of Wilkes-Barre for hats delivered too late for the 1949 Easter trade in New York and South Norwalk, Conn. The award was for $450.

The year of heaviest annual rainfall in Ohio on record is 1890, with 50.4 inches.

United States Says Russia Is Promoting Dissension, Chaos

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Dec. 8.—(INS)—The United States charged Wednesday that Russia and her satellites are promoting "dissension" strife and chaos throughout the world to further "the cominform's expansionist ambitions."

Ambassador Warren Austin made the charge before the United Nations General Assembly during discussion of the Netherlands-Indonesian agreement creating a new state in the Dutch East Indies.

The U. S. chief delegate spoke after the Ukraine's Dimitri Manulsky led off the parade of Soviet block spokesmen condemning the Hague agreement.

Austin supported the Indian viewpoint that the United Nations should welcome the Indonesian agreement and predicted that the new United States of Indonesia will soon come into existence.

Fish Possession Limit Is Stated

HARRISBURG—The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has announced that the fish possession limit at any time is fixed at one day's creel limit.

This means that 10 trout, which is the daily creel limit, would by the same token be the possession limit and would include the trout one may have caught earlier and have on refrigeration, etc. If a fisherman caught four trout and placed them in his refrigerator and then the next day caught 10 more, he will be in violation of the law by having four more trout than the legal possession limit allows him at any one time. If the fish were black bass the number would be six, and so on.

The possession limit, however, does not prevent the fisherman from having 10 trout, six bass, etc., but does fix the limit at twenty-five (25) of the combined species at any one time.

A pamphlet of the fish laws reflecting these regulations will accompany each license issued in 1950.

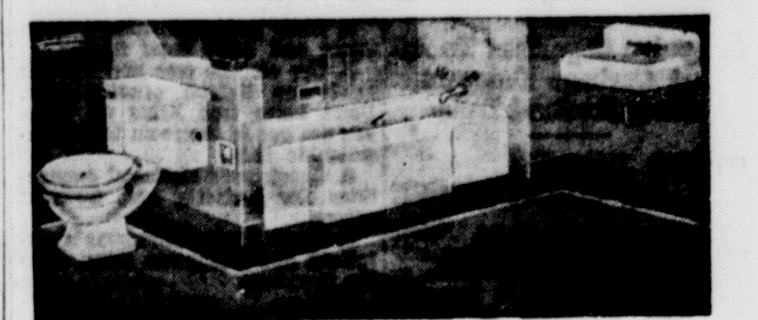

REPORT TOLERANCE TOWARDS CHRISTIANS BY REDS IN CHINA

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—A Methodist leader reports the Communist regimes in China have been surprisingly "tolerant" toward Christian Chinese and missionaries in the Far East. Dr. Frank T. Cartwright, associate Methodist secretary for China, told the church's Board of Missions there has been no verifiable instances of Red persecution since the summer of 1948.

Dr. Cartwright said Christians were amazed when they found that worship behind the "bamboo curtain" was unrestricted, and open evangelistic meetings were permitted.

"It is not known," he added, "to what degree this is a permanent policy of the new government, and to what degree a temporary expedient."

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

It seems that those "civic minded" citizens who formerly used Shenango township roads as a dumping ground have transferred their affections to Union township.

Citizens along Scotland Lane and in other parts of the township are wrothy over the disgusting practice and have organized to catch them.

One arrest has already been made and the citizen, a New Castle citizen by the way, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10. Those in charge of the campaign to stop this practice have promised that in the future the names of all persons arrested for this garbage dumping will be given wide publicity.

MORE ELECTION EXPENSES

Returns from candidates are coming in to the office of the County Commissioners in bunches. With Thursday December 8 as the dead line for returning election expenditures the list has increased daily.

Those returning their expenses as of Wednesday noon follow: Joseph Medure, Democratic candidate for city council, $398.75. Edward E. McConahy, Democratic candidate for Register and Recorder, $1,080.55, unpaid balance, $200. James A. Travers, Democratic candidate for city council, $418.02. Frank L. Coen, Republican candidate for sheriff, $485.30. Errol Fullerton, Republican candidate for District Attorney, $423.80.

Richard Moffett, for the City Democratic party of New Castle, contributions $384, expenditures, $414.

Eugene Henry Statti, convicted of assault and battery and indecent assault at the September term of court was fined $500 and costs and given two years in the Allegheny County Workhouse Wednesday morning by Judge W. Walter Graham.

The case was bitterly fought and Statti was freed of a number of serious charges but found guilty of assault and battery and indecent assault.

A motion was made for a new trial which was refused and sentence pronounced Wednesday.

TO RESTORE BOOKS

Judges W. Walter Graham and John G. Lamoree have signed an order authorizing Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Simple Rules For Christmas Safety

HOME

1. Check your home for anything that might cause an accident.
2. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames.
3. Use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever. Don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time.
4. Check your electrical connections for shorts and worn-out wires.
5. Keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

TRAFFIC

1. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards.
2. Put the Christmas spirit of "good will" into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians.
3. Don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking.
4. Don't drive if you drink—and vice versa.
5. Start in time and take it easy. Allow for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

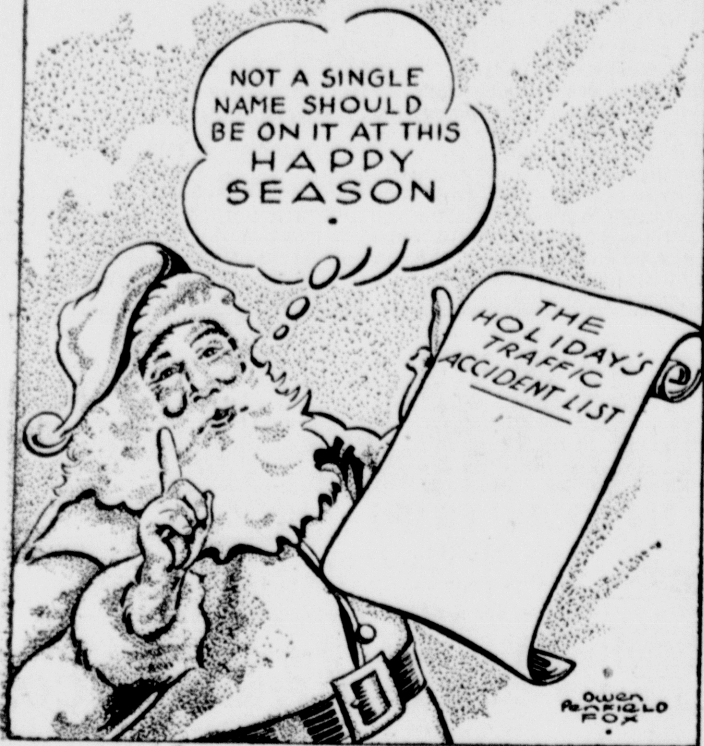

Citation Honors

Minnesota Governor

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl, of Minnesota, has been cited by the National Mental Health Foundation for his state's progress in treating asylum inmates.

Youngdahl was awarded a citation by former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts for his "courageous and far-sighted leadership" of the mental health program.

The governor explained that the essence of the Minnesota program was to treat such patients sympathetically and individually with an eye to rehabilitation.

MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 out of 6 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

That's the reason Creamo Margarine was chosen by 5 out of 6 children in a hidden name test of bread-spreads. It's easy to understand why pure sweet cream makes Creamo more delicious and a smoother, better spread. And because Creamo is the only margarine made with cream, it's easy to understand why more people, every day, are asking for Creamo Margarine. They know that Creamo's extra flavor means more delicious eating and greater economy, too, because the flavor goes farther. Especially in flavoring other foods: hot vegetable dishes and for baking and frying. You'll never know how extra delicious Creamo really is until you try it yourself, so be sure to get a pound of Creamo, today.

Miss B. Campbell Talks On Reading At Pollock P.T.A.

Christmas Music Enjoyed; Westminster Teacher Speaks On 'Remedial Reading'

Carol singing and merriment welcomed the members of the Pollock Avenue Parent-Teachers Association to their monthly meeting Wednesday evening.

Miss Margaret Lowry, program chairman, introduced the principal Pete Grittle, who led the group in singing several traditional Christmas carols, accompanied by Miss Ruth Weir at the piano. Under the direction of Miss Weir, several children of the school entertained the members with a charming holiday program. A boys' chorus sang "Adeste Fidelis", followed by group singing.

A chorus of sixth grade girls sang several charming old favorites. Proof of the ability of children and their willingness to learn was the instrumental ensemble made up of Rees Flannery, Dan DiCarlo, James Esposito and Carmen Cusitroni, who played two carols. A mixed chorus of fourth grade children presented a group of Christmas carols, followed by a finale with the entire group participating.

Welcomes Group
Orlando Lucidore, president of the P.T.A., welcomed the group consisting of many new members. "With parents and teachers working together as we do, we shall be able to give the children the best education possible. There are many reasons for belonging to the unit but no explanation is needed... the people need only to come to the meetings and find out for themselves." Mr. Lucidore then showed the assemblage the trophy won by the P.T.A. float in the Armistice parade.

The president introduced Miss Beulah Campbell, elementary education teacher at Westminster college, who had as her subject "Remedial Reading". "Parents and teachers all over the country are meeting just as you are, in order to solve problems of children. Some educators are wondering what is wrong with modern education. Let me illustrate what one person thinks about the subject... the teachers are scared of the principal, the principal is scared of the superintendent, the superintendent is scared of the board of education, the board of education is scared of the parents, the parents are scared of the children, and children aren't scared of anyone."

"To help solve the problems of the slow reader, there are classes in remedial reading, taught by special teachers. Various tests are given to the child to see just where he is lacking in his reading ability. Remedial reading clinics have been set up in the United States to aid in the instruction of these children."

Basic Principles
Continuing, Miss Campbell stated, "There are a few important basic principles to follow in trying remedial work, which can be attempted in your own school if need be. The first is to diagnose the case and see just what is wrong and from that decide what is causing the poor reading. It may be the lack of a proper reading program. A teacher and parent must always keep in mind that a child develops and grows at his own rate of speed, and will learn in the same way. A child needs a wealth of experiences in order of read well, and visual and auditory discrimination is vitally important."

Orlando Lucidore appointed a committee to help with the Christmas party arrangements, consisting of the Mesdames Edith Natale, M. Eakin, P. James, J. Cartwright, C. Panella, C. Maeri, A. Ginocchi, M. Gallagher, L. Lombardo, R. Buonpane, and A. Bullaro. The Catholic War Veterans of the city will provide the treat for the children on the last day of school.

Mrs. Mary Sands will be chair-lady of the committee for the February meeting. At that time, the Pollock unit will sponsor a social event to be held in the school.

Winner of the evening's door prize was Mrs. Pete Scarnati. Mrs. Rosenberg, second grade teacher won the room prize for having the largest representation of mothers.

Miss Lowry announced that Ben Rosenbaum would be guest speaker at the meeting of January 3. Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Edith Natale.

In the Sixth Century the church set aside the four Sundays preceding Christmas as a time of devotional preparation for the festival. These are now known as the Sundays in Advent.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—As the United States pursues development of guided missiles—possible key weapon in any new war—it is seeking every possible utilization of the A-bomb carriers.

As a little-discussed example: One infantry regiment is being trained to handle and launch guided missiles as an integral part of ground forces fire power.

This fire power already includes a half dozen revolutionary weapons never thought of as infantry equipment until recently. Among these are the "no recoil" 57 and 77 mm. rifles and the "super-bazooka."

The guided missile regiment is working with an adaptation of the Navy's Loon and with the Matador. The Matador is the combination V-2-Wac Corporal which already has reached 250 miles altitude.

The regiment also is experimenting with the missile-relay principle in which a weapon is guided to its destination by a series of control points.

STASSEN'S "BETTER WAY"
Political experts regard Harold E. Stassen's post-election statement in Washington that Senator John Foster Dulles' defeat in New York by ex-Gov. Herbert Lehman means the GOP is in a "bad way" as an open bid for the 1952 presidential nomination.

Stassen was a front runner for the Republican nomination in Philadelphia in 1948, but, of course, was outpaced by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who lost the show-down contest to New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The Dulles defeat obviously eliminates Dewey from any chance he might have had of winning the nomination for a third time.

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, is laying the groundwork for an intensive 1952 campaign for the nomination.

Taft forces do not like it. Taft and Stassen are natural rivals within the GOP. Out of their furious contest for power may come the 1952 Republican presidential candidate.

NEXT SUPERSONIC PLANE

Reports in aviation circles are that another American plane has, or shortly will have, flown faster than sound.

The aircraft is the Convair XF-92 and its triumph over the sonic barrier (763 miles an hour at sea level) will add much to aeronautical engineering knowledge because it is of radical design.

The first supersonic plane, the Bell X-1, had straight, thick wings, but the "92" utilizes the Delta, or triangular, wing conformation. At speeds approaching 2,000 miles an hour the engineers believe it will be feasible to return to the straight-edge wing in order to assure control of the plane in landings.

GOP WOMEN ON THE MARCH

Senator Owen Brewster (R), Maine, believes that the success of a Republican woman has impelled President Truman into appointing Democratic women to important posts in the government.

The Maine Republican stated that not nearly so many women would have been named to high position had not Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R) Maine, won her election and made good at it.

He said he thinks the record made by Mrs. Smith led directly to the appointment of Mrs. Perle Mesta, millionaire Washington "party giver," as minister to Luxembourg. This was followed by the naming of Mrs. Eugene Anderson, of Red Wing, Minn., to a diplomatic post in Denmark, the nation's first woman ambassador.

LOUDER, PLEASE

The justices of the United States Supreme Court may not be hard of hearing, but for a long time now they have complained about the poor acoustics in the $10,000,000 marble palace.

They have finally decided to do something about it. A committee of three—Justices Hugo Black, Tom Clark and Sherman Minton—has been named to do something.

In the meantime, speak up, counsellors! Don't make the justices cup their hands behind their ears!

CLAIM TO ROYALTY UNDER FIRE

THE YOUNG MAN who describes himself as "Prince Otto Wilhelm von Hohenzollern" is shown in Mexico City with his bride, the former Virginia Kirk of New Orleans, and her mother, Mrs. Adele Kirk. Members of the German royal family have branded him as an impostor. A Bamberg, Germany, umbrella maker says the "Prince" is his son, who has been missing since 1944 when reported killed in action. Housing Contract
Bids To Be Asked

Connellsville, Pottstown, Reading And State College Areas On State Planning Program

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The State Planning board is preparing to call for housing contract bids in at least four more areas under Pennsylvania's $50,000,000 housing program.

The areas are Connellsville, Pottstown, Reading and State College, according to Daniel A. Rogers, director of the low-cost housing program.

He emphasized that any of them may be dropped out of the next bids should unforeseen problems develop.

Several other areas "have neared completion of plans and may be included in the next bid date," he said. It is "impossible" at the present time to determine which other areas are close to the bidding stage.

"Each of the areas at the top of the list still have one or two technicalities that have to be ironed out, but if things keep going at the present pace the state should be able to call for bids on at least five more areas within the next two weeks," Rogers reported.

Approve Specifications

The board, charged with running the housing program, yesterday approved specification and sites proposed by 14 contractors planning to build houses in Allentown, Bethlehem, Butler, Erie and Johnstown, the first group approved. The 14 contractors will be the only contractors permitted to bid on these projects December 15, according to the board.

Commerce Secretary Theodore Roosevelt III, board chairman, refused to name contractors or give the number of approved bidders in individual areas on grounds the knowledge of the number of bidders in a single area might influence the outcome.

The planning board said the state's tentative subsidy for Reading area proposed housing construction is $414,205 out of a total scheduled allocation of $1,303,680, for the six-county area including Berks, Carbon, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton and Schuylkill counties.

Tentative Allocations

Pottstown's tentative allocation is $118,947.

Tentative allocation for State College is $66,150 out of Area Four's $746,415 total of 12 counties.

The board said the allocation for Connellsville is "undetermined," and indicated a change is being made.

As plans and contractors win approval of the board, projects will go up for bid with all housing and redevelopment jobs expected to be actually under construction during 1950.

CAN'T TELL NATIONS WITHOUT SCORE CARD

LONDON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The way things are going, you won't be able to tell the countries of the world soon without a scorecard.

Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands started a trend by uniting for defense purposes as "Benelux." France and Italy joined those three in a customs union, calling themselves "Fritalux."

A British treasury official revealed today Britain has suggested Denmark, Norway and Sweden form a customs union and call it "Uniscan."

SANDLOT AWARDS

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The National Baseball Congress hopes to enlist an added 100,000 sandlot players in 1950. Raymond Dumont, president and founder of the organization, points out that the new plan will honor 15,000 of the nation's leading players by awarding them individual certificates.

State Retains Lead
In Ice Cream Output

HARRISBURG.—Pennsylvania once more retains its rank as the No. 1 ice cream manufacturing state in the nation.

This became a matter of official record today in the State Department of Agriculture which announced, as a result of co-operative surveys with the State Department of Internal Affairs that production last year totaled 65,329,000 gallons.

Federal-state agricultural statisticians recalled that the summer of 1948 was rather wet and cool and demand for ice cream declined 10 per cent from the previous year when production was 72,558,000 gallons. Also, the 1948 output was about 14 million gallons below the all-time record of 79,494,000 gallons in 1946, when returning GI's swamped soda fountains, milk bars and ice cream parlors to satisfy their craving for frozen sweets, and restrictions were removed on production for civilians.

SELL MORE ICE
NEW YORK.—(INS)—The ice business is better today than before the advent of mechanical refrigerators. A National Association of Ice Industries spokesman points out 50 million tons will be sold this year, double the amount 25 years ago.

Congressmen See Little Need For Income 'Snooping'

Assail Portion Of Census Laws Pertaining To Family Incomes During Coming House Count

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Two Republican congressmen have assailed as "snooping" a proposal that census takers in 1950 inquire as to a person's income.

Rep. Hinshaw (R) Calif., and Rep. Brown (R) Ohio, both condemned the announcement by the census bureau that one out of every five Americans will be asked to disclose his annual personal income.

Hinshaw protested that the president is usurping power in permitting the question to be asked and joined Brown in warning that the proposal contains political implications. The Californian said:

"If the census bureau obtains the information it is seeking about personal incomes, the Truman administration will have at its disposal a tightening mass of the most intimate information about the American people."

He angrily declared that Congress has never contemplated "an army of political hacks gathering such information." He charged that the administration "is thumbing its nose" at both Congress and the bill of rights.

Brown contended that the questions concerning income "smack strongly of police state methods." He said:

Super Snooping Invasion

"The Truman administration has turned the 1950 census into a super-snooping invasion of the American people's sacred right of privacy."

He also attacked the move as "political." Brown remarked:

"Since the income questions on the census will serve little legitimate purpose, their true purpose must lie elsewhere. The census will be taken largely by members of the Democratic political machine. It is easy to see how they could put the income information to almost every conceivable misuse."

"To cite just one instance, the income lists would make a priceless 'sucker list' for the Democratic fund-raisers in 1950 and 1952."

Brown also emphasized that criminal penalties are provided for refusing to give the information or for falsifying an answer. He declared:

"There it is—a perfect example of socialism in action. You have no rights as an individual. You tell all to Washington. You knuckle under to the government or go to jail."

State Makes Demand That Pollution End

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The State Sanitary Water board today advised Easton to stop industries from discharging wastes into Bushkill creek via drain sewers.

The city was asked to post the board on action taken to end the pollution.

A spokesman for the board refused to identify the offenders.

An investigation was launched by the board November 3 after it was learned that polluted waters had killed a "great number of fish."

Three industries accused of maintaining public health nuisances were cleared of the charges by the division of environmental hygiene, the board reported. The agency refused to identify them.

NAM Group Seeks Income Tax Cuts In Top Executives

Nation's Industrialists Ask For Return To Gold Standard At Association Meeting

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Manufacturers in its 54th annual conference in its 54th annual conference of American Industry made a demand for a cut in top-bracket income taxes and a return to the gold standard. More than 3,000 top industrialists are attending the three-day meeting in New York which has as its theme "New Strength for America."

The NAM board of directors outlined the association's views on current issues in the fields of government, industry and agriculture. The board recommended a top individual income tax rate of 50 per cent and an end to "inequities" in the excise tax without increasing the federal deficit. As a substitute for the present system of excises, the NAM board suggested a general manufacturers' excise tax to produce the same revenue. Current excise taxes would be continued on liquor and tobacco and food and food products would be exempt from the proposed levy.

In advocating the return to the gold standard, abandoned during the depression, the board said the United States "must set an example by adopting a sound monetary base."

The board urged more opportunities for handicapped workers and endorsed the principle of high wages when based on high productivity.

The Brannan farm plan for direct subsidies to farmers drew the "unqualified opposition" of the NAM board but the Marshall Plan and to Europe won the group's endorsement.

New Leprosy Drugs Prove Effective

Sulfone Drugs Big Help In Disease Battle Of Lepers But Still No Cure For Ailment

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A leprosy expert said Wednesday that the sulfone drugs are the most effective weapons medicine has in the battle against the dread disease, but are not a cure for it.

R. Paul T. Erickson, senior surgeon of the U. S. Public Health Service, National Leprosarium, Carville, La., explained that the goal of research is to discover a drug that will be a specific remedy for the deadly, marring disease.

He said the sulfone drugs, which have been in use about eight years, have proved far superior to chaulmoogra oil, the former standard treatment. He added:

"Although definitely not a cure-all, the sulfone drugs have proved therapeutically more effective in leprosy than any previous treatment tried at Carville. No claim, however, is made that these drugs are specific remedies for leprosy."

Dr. Erickson, in Chicago to attend the eighth annual meeting of Syphilology, said that with the Academy of Dermatology and sulfone treatment it has been found that most leprosy sufferers can be returned to normal life within four years.

He estimated that there are from 2,000 to 5,000 leprosy victims in the U. S., most of them concentrated in four southern states, Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Georgia.

RAINBOW ORDER INDUCTS CLASS

One of the largest classes of candidates to be inducted in recent years was initiated by New Castle Assembly No. One, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, at the beautiful ceremony of the order in The Cathedral, Wednesday evening. There were 39 girls who were initiated, and two were received by affiliation.

Miss Janet Frank, Worthy Advisor, and Mrs. William Berkstreser, Mother Advisor, presided.

Mrs. George D. Reid, of the Advisory board, had charge of the decorations, which were appropriate to the yule season.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by a committee, which included Margaret Ann McKenzie and her aids from the Assembly, and Mr. and Mrs. John Templeton, Mrs. Evelyn McKibben, and Miss Mabel Campbell, of the Advisory board.

Arrangements were made by the girls of the Assembly to conduct the annual Bang sale for the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, on December 17. Around 70 young girls from the assembly will take part in this endeavor.

Arrangements were also furthered for the Christmas dance, which will take place in The Cathedral on the night of Monday, December 26, which is expected to prove the outstanding social event of the year among the younger set. This is strictly an invitational dance.

Family Club

Members of the Family club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Manto, Home street, on a recent evening.

Mrs. Cleora Cast, president, was in charge and plans were made for a New Year's party to be held on January 1 at the home of Mrs. Catherine Bloise of Walmo. The club token was won by William Cast.

Games of cards were in play. Later a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Miss Cleora Cast and Mrs. C. Bloise.

January 1 is the meeting with Mrs. Catherine Bloise of Walmo.

Shaughnessy-DeLillo

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Norine Shaughnessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaughnessy, of 913 Hazen street, to Raymond DeLillo, son of Mrs. Mary DeLillo, of 15 Maitland street.

The ceremony was performed on May 19, 1949, in Mercer, Pa., with Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain officiating.

There were no attendants.

Gayette Club To Meet

Members of the Gayette Club will meet tonight in their club-rooms at 7 p.m. Plans will be completed for the Christmas party and an election of officers will take place.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Anthony Croach and Mrs. Sam Angelo.

Study To Be Made Of Pennsylvania Defense Matters

Governor Duff Establishes Committee To Coordinate State And Federal Planning

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—An intensive survey of Pennsylvania's permanent defense needs is to be undertaken by an eight-member civil defense committee similar to the one which operated during World War II.

Gov. James H. Duff established the committee and directed members to coordinate state and federal civil defense planning with local agencies.

Increased local authority under the new setup is anticipated, according to an announcement from the governor's office.

"Under a suggested civil defense act by the U.S. Office of Civil Defense Planning, the authority of local government with respect to civil defense matters would be increased," the announcement stated.

"The suggested law would further provide for establishment of local organizations for civil defense and their administration subject to the control of the new statewide agency," it was added.

The wartime state defense council, established by the General Assembly in 1941, was dissolved at the end of the last war.

New Game Based On Golf, Croquet

DENVER—(INS)—Henry T. Harrison, Jr., of Denver, has devised a new game he calls "wicket golf," but which might also be dubbed "crof" or maybe "gouquet."

The sports arena is laid out in the same pattern as a croquet area, but the croquet mallets and heavy wooden balls are replaced by golf sticks and old golf balls.

The center wicket has been replaced by a regulation golf putting-green hole. The player must knock the ball into the golf hole twice during his round of the course.

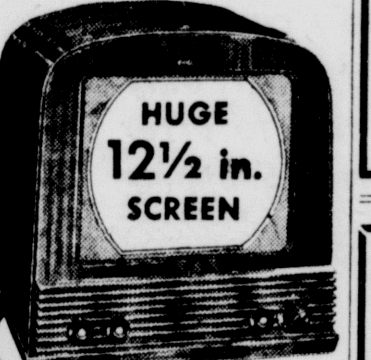

Harrison doubts that his invention will become as popular as croquet and miniature golf once were, but who knows?

The croquet craze died down in the 1920's, and miniature golf's star set during the early 1940's.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Don's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Don's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Don's Pills.

Unusual Scene Almost True

BUFFALO, N. Y.—The tables are turned—Mr. Bruin, wearing his favorite hunting cap, signals for left turn as he proudly drives into Buffalo with a fine specimen of home-Buffalonia which he claims to have bagged near Salamanca. The hunter is Harry Szarowski who, to confess all, shot the 300-pound black bear, but missed with the first shot with Mr. Bruin very close.

IS STATUE OF NUDE FIT FOR MEMORIAL?

LONDON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Is the statue of a nude woman a fitting war memorial?

That question was being debated in Schiedam, The Netherlands, over a canvas-wrapped statue in Juliana Park which is guarded by police and may or may not be unveiled.

The London Daily Mail said that Burgomaster J. Peek peeked beneath the canvas and pronounced the statue "handsome," but added:

"A nude woman is not a fitting symbol for Schiedam's 500 war dead. Families might not wish to bring their children to pay respects before such a statue."

The first Christmas tree came into being, it is believed, when Boniface, an English missionary to Germany, in the Eighth Century did away with the sacred oak of Odin and replaced it with a fir tree, adorned in honor of the Christ child.

Britain has built a new carrier-based jet fighter which has no landing wheels but makes "belly" landings on a rubber mat on the deck.

GAMBLING EVEN IF GUY HASN'T CHANCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The sucker may never even have a chance, but all the same, three card monte is gambling.

Judge Charles C. Marbury in nearby Hyattsville, Md., sentenced John D. Lynch and Leonard E. Coleman to six months in jail despite the plea of their attorney that the game they played with strangers—three card monte—was not gambling.

The attorney based his plea on the statement by a detective that "certainly the player doesn't have a chance."

BUILDINGS PLANNED

TORONTO—A $16,000,000 building program for the University of Toronto has been announced. Projects include an addition to the mechanical engineering building, a man's residence and new buildings for arts, archives, medical research and the school of nursing.

TOO MUCH BULK

PORTLAND, Me.—Back in 1936 John Yarno decided to save 1,000,000 pennies. Now he's given up the idea. Two friends had to help him take his savings, 110,000 pennies, to a bank.

BEANS GROW BIG

AXTELL, Kan. — Mrs. Gus Preaches' hobby is raising guinea

beans. They grow more than a yard in length and weigh up to 10 pounds. "They make delicious eating when rolled in a mixture of eggs and flour and fried," she said. "They taste like egg plant."

The royal antelope of West Africa is supposed to be the smallest of all cud-chewing animals; it is only a foot high.

IN THE OPEN

The welcome mat was out as I returned to the timbered "hollow" to help celebrate the arrival of another December. I paused for a breather among the few scraggly lilacs which mark the dooryard where once a log house stood. The house has long since moldered away to a low mound and a few foundation stones. As I stood on this "threshold" to the hill country a pair of nuthatches came swooping across as official greeters.

These gymnasts performed all over the cluster of cherry trees which have succeeded the parent tree set there years ago. They hung head downward and inspected me with beady eyes before exploring causally along the under side of a branch, like a fly walking on the ceiling.

The northern slopes still harbored the light snow which had fallen during the night, but the hillside facing the south lay warm and brown beneath the brief December sun. I walked out to the edge of the rim surrounding the hollow, then headed straight down through the old-field tangles to the timbered ravines.

Cheerful Brown Birds

There was a great company of cheerful brown birds feeding in the weedy edges of the thickets. These were the tree sparrows, newly arrived from their nesting grounds in the far north. No matter how severe the weather they have a great time as they feed along the fence rows or across weedy bottoms. About the same size as the common house sparrow, they wear a tell-tale brown "stickpin" on the breast, and noticeable wing bars.

Just as I neared an aging section of stake and rider fence which wanders among the trees a plump chipmunk who should have been snug abed below decks, scurried ahead of me and disappeared in a hollowed and weathered snag. He scrambled about four feet up inside this hideout, never noticing that a half-inch of his tail stuck out through a traitorous crack. When I grabbed that tiny appendage the hullabaloo inside the weathered snag left me weak with laughter.

After I released him the chipmunk elected to hide in the snag. My walking stick probed into a crack and pried out a narrow section some five feet long. The effect was as though I had cut a window into the hollow retreat. The chipmunk scooted out and onto the rail fence. The last I saw of him he was tearing along at a rapid clip, that outraged tail standing straight up in injured dignity. A tiny Winter castle had been built into the upper reaches of the hollow snag. It was like a gray blanket, woven of feathers and thistle-down and other soft and warm fibers. Snuggled down in this cozy den, with the covers literally over their heads, were a pair of white-footed mice.

Beautiful Animal

I know of no more beautiful animal in our woodlands than this little deer mouse. Fawn-colored above, and white as purest ermine below, with tiny white boots on his tiny feet, he always ranks among the ten best dressed members of the ancient order of hibernators. I disturbed these bundlers long enough for one of the sleepy pair to nestle in the palm of my hand and regard me timorously with his big black eyes. Before he came awake enough to protest I returned him carefully to the nest and wedged the narrow strip securely back in place. I hope the snag den will be big enough to house the new arrivals who will be along in time to greet the returning Springtide.

A few rods along the state and rider fence brought me to outcrop country where big bulging boulders lie sullenly in a curving line through the trees. As I detoured around one of these weathered patriarchs an old familiar thunder blurred out at my feet and a ruffed grouse careened off through the trees. As usual, my heart came up in my throat at the sudden take-off.

Edging one rim of this secluded hollow is another series of outcrop boulders, one of which affords a commanding outlook across the valley. The "rock cap" polypody fern has placed a full set of green whiskers on the face of this massive stone. On the broad flat top the fox had left his calling card, sure sign that Reynard enjoys loafing there when the sun warms that remote outpost.

Returning to the car I crossed "the brown hill's withered brow," traversing a stand of dead mullein which loomed against the skyline like a field of twisted desert cactus. The tinkling music of the tree sparrows followed me over the rise as I headed back to the doubtful amenities of the city.

Farmer Asks Doe Hunters To Come To Farm Saturday

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Thomas Hileman of Altoona is only one of many farmers with a complaint many hunters wished they had.

Hileman has issued an invitation to hunters to hunt deer doe on his land Saturday.

The Altoona farmer said he has counted herds of at least 35 deer on his land, and they have destroyed more than 300 bushels of corn.

But when he appears, Farmer Hileman said, the deer disappear.

WOMAN INJURES FOOT

Mrs. Phyllis Sheffield, of 335 Park avenue, was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment at 6:55 p.m. Tuesday, which were received in a fall earlier in the day.

Examination at the hospital revealed fracture of the metatarsal arch of the foot.

In Shakespeare's time, the Christmas festivities often lasted for 12 days. During this period there was no work done of any kind.

Governor Duff At Conference

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff arrived today at Chicago for a three-day conference with other governors on taxation and administrative problems of all levels of government.

The Pennsylvania chief executive is a member of the executive committee of the National Governor's Conference which is slated to hold a joint session with the board of managers of the council of state governments.

Owen Fox Speaks To Optimist Club

Speaks On "Indian Lore And Outdoors"; Basketball Committees Named

Owen Penfield Fox, city forester and noted outdoorsman, was the chief speaker Wednesday evening at the regular semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Optimist club in the Leslie hotel.

Mr. Fox spoke on "Indian Lore and Outdoors". He illustrated his talks by showing Indian relics and telling the story behind them.

Special guests for the evening were Howard Gibbs and William Wingfield.

George Detwiler announced the committees for the handling of the basketball game between Westminster and Slippery Rock next Monday evening, which is being sponsored by the Optimist club.

Committees named are:

Tickets—Tom Gettings. Ticket sellers—Bill Pascoe, chairman; Glenn Montgomery, Dale Clobus, Bill Carr. Ticket takers—Jim Stevenson, chairman; Tom Gettings, Deick McKeen, Paul Feed, Guy C. Shoff and Carl Anderson.

Rev. A. E. Simon gave a report on the progress of the toy repairing project. On the committee with Rev. Simon are Dale Clobus, Rocco Viggiano and Joe Yachabach. This committee on toy repairing is known as "Santa's Helpers".

Denies Testimony That He Killed Family Physician

LA CROSSE, Wis., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Chunky Arnold O. Larson will return to the witness stand in La Crosse today to answer his wife's charges that he admitted to her that he killed his family physician.

He gave the lie late yesterday to all previous testimony by witnesses that he shot and killed Dr. James E. McLoone.

The 35-year-old father, whose son Jimmy, 2, died under the doctor's care in February, 1944, denied that he killed McLoone and also refuted the idea that he bore any ill will toward him as a result of his son's death.

Family Reunited After Many Years

Twenty-two years of separation between husband and wife came to an end this past week.

Mrs. Antoinette Dalmastro, an immigrant from Baia Latina, Italy, was joyfully reunited with her husband, Antonio Dalmastro, of Pearson street, this city.

The happy woman was met at the New York harbor by her husband. The long years of World War II and the fateful event which kept them apart these many years will soon be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalmastro departed immediately for New Castle. Here they were met at the station by Mrs. Dalmastro's two brothers, Domenick, whom she had not seen for 45 years, and Sam, whom she had not seen for 30 years. She also has two sisters and another brother in Italy.

Her daughter, Marietta, is married and remained in Baia Latina with her family. A son, John, is a Russian prisoner of war and no notification of his whereabouts has been received since the end of the war.

Sunday evening a gala dinner party was held at the Colella residence on High street. The reunion was attended by many relatives of the guest, locally and out of town. Friends called all day to extend congratulations and a "welcome" to America.

War experiences in Italy were not easy to endure. The people in that country have suffered much; hardships being many, with the lack of nourishing food and commodities predominating.

Baia Latina was bombed a great deal and one of the town's largest churches, noted for its structural beauty, was bombed to the ground. After the war the people were grateful for the many packages sent from America. They received a high percentage of them, with perhaps a few of them being lost.

Mrs. Dalmastro related how eagerly the people who lived in a country ravaged by war awaited the clothing and necessities.

Thus far Mrs. Dalmastro's stay here has been a busy one. She has been the guest in the various homes of her relatives and has been visiting and dining with them. She fully intends to make this country—and New Castle—her home. Mr. Dalmastro is employed at the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy company.

Plan For Probe Of Relief Program In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A six-pronged investigation of the commonwealth's $225,000,000 relief program was announced today by the joint state government commission.

A sub-committee appointed by the JSGC will draft a report for inclusion in the study agency's recommendations to the General Assembly in 1951.

In addition to a spot check of relief cases to detect possible fraud, announced last summer, the committee will scrutinize the blind pension program, according to Rep. Baker Royer, (R) Lancaster, chairman of the JSGC.

At first, the time of Christmas varied in different places, and some churches observed the festival in December, other in January, April and May.

INJURED AT WORK
Kenneth Warner, 28, of R. D. 6, Butler road, was injured at the Welding Fitting corporation Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, lacerating his left thumb while operating a machine. He was treated in the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

Optimists' Toy Repairing Work Moving Rapidly

Many Toys Have Already Been Received, But Club Can Still Use More

Members of the New Castle Optimist club are coming along well with their toy repairing project, it is reported by project chairman Rev. A. E. Simon.

So far hundreds of contributions have been made to the club and the toys have been repaired and painted ready to be distributed to needy children in the district.

Though many toys have been received, they can still use more, it is announced by Rev. Simon. They can be deposited at the Sherwin-Williams company, 217 East Washington street, who are contributing repair materials, or at the City Rescue Mission, which will be the distribution center after they are repaired.

The toys will be given to the Salvation Army, Red Cross and other organizations and persons throughout the county.

Rocco Viggiano, Dale Clobus and Joe Yachabach are shop foremen in charge of the repairs.

Tifereth Israel Friday Services

Ben Rosenbaum To Discuss Current Problems At Late Evening Services

Early religious service will take place Friday at 4:45 p. m. in the vestry building of Tifereth Israel synagogue. The regular late evening service will commence at 8:15 and will be held in the main synagogue building, with the entire service dedicated to the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood.

Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will deliver a special sermon discourse upon the scriptural portion in Genesis, and Rev. Benjamin Miller, cantor, will chant the specially arranged Sabbath liturgical selections.

The guest speaker of the evening at the Oneg Shabbat table will be Ben Rosenbaum, who will discuss current world problems today. Hospitality will be tendered the assembly by a committee of the Sisterhood.

Religious services of the junior congregation will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30 in the vestry of the synagogue. Scriptural portions and honors will be designated by Rabbi Lipschutz to the students of the religious school. Refreshments will be served the children by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kantz, in honor of the birthday of their son, William Kantz.

Final registrations for the Tiny Tot class will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. Parents are requested to accompany the children. The musical program of the weekly assembly will be dedicated to a pre-Hanukah program, with the cooperation of Mrs. Gus Slovinsky and Mrs. Samuel Bobick.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—New York Dress Institute, 1450 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen: This morning as I was slipping into a clean mother Hubbard, the postman rang twice and thrust into my dish-pan hands a communication and ballot from your organization, asking me to help select the ten best dressed women of 1949.

Give me credit: I did not even die laughing when I read "This annual poll is conducted by the New York Dress Institute, to fulfill a long tradition of the newspaper world."

Naturally, gentlemen, I am flattered that you think a woman who leans to two-skirt suits and celluloid jabots is qualified to help select the ten best dressed of her sex. Universal suffrage is certainly the American way, although I believe you are pressing your luck a bit in this instance.

Had you ever thought of devising some kind of literary test to qualify voters in this great annual election?

It just occurs to me that to qualify as an elector in this case, a voter ought to be able at fifty paces, to tell a fath gusset from a dior wing-back around left end.

Run-Off Election

I see by your ballot that this is a run-off election. Some place along the line, I apparently missed out on the primaries. You have 109 nominees, almost as many as run regularly for the governorship of Texas.

Most of the candidates have a familiar look as they parade to the post. I see you have included Mrs. Harrison Williams, whom I had pictured as the retired and undisputed champion, and the Duchess of Windsor, who is surely in the emeritus class by this time.

But it is nice to know that these two old champs are still doing their road work and are in there ready to defend their titles to the last dust ruffle.

I was a little surprised to see the name of Ina Clairs (Mrs. William Wallace) included on the list. The grape vine has it that she disqualified herself forever a season or so ago when she made the big ten by traitorously exclaiming: "Who, me? Why, I've only got one dress to my name!"

You will also pardon me if I lift an eyebrow at the inclusion of the name of Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey and the exclusion of that of Mrs. Harry S. Truman. I thought even the supreme court read the election returns.

But then, I see you have included among the nominees the name of Miss Margaret Truman. Maybe, in your bright lexicon, this squares everything. But, frankly, as opotential judge, it only confounds confusion. Boys, are you kidding?

You have seen fit to give the fashion nod to three members of the British royal family, Queen Mary, Princess Margaret Rose and the Duchess of Kent, the only member of the clan who has ever made the first team in the past.

Not Cynical

I do not wish to be cynical, but neither do I wish to be a dope. The princess will get her letter this year, or else. But I wish it were grandma. Both the millinery and the queen business are kind of shaky in this year of grace, and it would do a heap to bolster both if H. R. H. Queen Mary, were to get the nod.

It's the least the fashion industry can do for a woman who knows what she likes and has the courage to wear it.

I don't know whether you nominate Greta Garbo through force of habit or conviction. But if Garbo qualifies in those old pants and that coolie hat, then why snub Broadway Rose?

Let's see. You also give me my choice of two Huttons, Barbara, and her aunt-by-marriage, Mrs. Edward F. Hutton. This makes it tough.

Then I have to weigh the merits of Oreta Culy Hobbs, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, Mrs. Robert Sherwood and Clare Boothe Luce. Well, the institute ought at least to get a glassy Rhodes scholar out of that little group.

Then there are candidates Anna-bella, Claudette Colbert, Anita Colby, Joan Crawford, Irene Dunne, Judy Garland, Rita Hayworth, Gene Tierney and Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett.

Gentlemen, it is an embarrassment of sartorial riches. In all humility, I do not feel worthy to deal with the great issues at stake in this election.

Lemme see. I have ten votes. Any candidate wishes to influence me in her favor can do so by sending in three mainbocher box-tops and a one hundred-dollar bill in plain wrapper. I influence easy and the first ten girls to get their money in the mail, get my votes.

Sincerely,

INEZ ROBB.

Mine Detector Locates Graves

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS) — Twenty years ago a Wyoming cowboy stumbled over a piece of stone, turning it over. It read: "Mary E. Homsley, died June 28, 1852, aged 28."

The cowboy took the news to the editor of the New Fort Laramie paper who put W. W. Morrison to work.

Within 200 feet of the spot Morrison found a large rock into which the other fitted perfectly. The outline of a grave became visible and the sleuth of the Old Oregon Trail Association had found another of the 34,000 pioneers who fell along the 2,000-mile wayside.

Not all are that easy. Morrison the Union Pacific passenger agent at Cheyenne, uses a mine detector in his hobby, roaming the hills with it in the chance that a button or other piece of metal may betray a grave.

Morrison doesn't open the grave. He photographs the markers and sends the picture to newspapers where he thinks the family originated or migrated.

After writing thousands of letters he has identified 14 graves.

Month Ban On Fishing In All Trout Streams

HARRISBURG — The special amendment of the Pennsylvania fish laws enacted by the 1949 legislature prohibits fishing of all kinds in any waters of the state from March 14 to April 15 except in rivers, lakes and ponds not stocked with trout.

The legislature took this action to put a stop to the taking of trout under the guise or pretense of fishing for suckers. The trout stocking program during that period will be made secure until the opening of the season on April 15.

The field force of state fish wardens are alerted and have special instructions from the Fish Commission to see to it that the new law is carried into full force

Aluminum Company Strike Is Now Ended

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Aluminum Company of America and the CIO-United Steelworkers on Wednesday signed a contract sending 17,000 men in nine plants back to work after a seven-week strike.

The strike began October 17 at Alcoa plants at Alcoa, Tenn.; New Kensington, Pa.; Bauxite, Ark.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Baden, N. C.; Richmond, Ind.; Detroit, Mich.; Mobile, Ala., and Edgewater, N. J. The agreement provides non-contributory pensions for the workers, social insurance benefits and the union claimed, a "procedure for correcting wage inequities."

Non-sporting dogs include watch dogs, shepherd dogs, pets and others.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 8.—June Wyman and Kirk Douglas have just spent the longest six days of their lives—sitting on the floor.

For nearly a week the two characters parked on deck of a shabby old apartment for a scene in "The Glass Menagerie." And the scene might wind up with the reputation of being one of the most poignant and tender chunks of drama ever filmed.

The apartment, in which the electric company has doused the Mazdas for non-payment of the bill, is lighted by a couple of candles centered between the seated figures of Jane and Kirk.

Crippled Daughter

Douglas, as the famous "Gentleman Caller" in Warner's screen version of the Pulitzer Prize winning play, attempts throughout the scene to bring confidence into the heart of the crippled daughter, played by Jane.

He eventually succeeds, even to the point of getting the lame gal to dance. It is the highlight of the movie—but it also meant strained muscles and sore backs for the pair of performers.

Jane said: "There are times when you play a long scene standing up and you think it's tiring. But it's nothing compared to sitting on a hard floor for six days. Your back hurts, your leg muscles ache and your neck feels as though someone has tied a 10-pound weight on it."

"At the end of the day you can't see how you'll ever be able to sit down again. But it's all worth it when the scene turns out all right."

Kirk also felt like he'd been punched through a wringer.

He said: "In 'Young Man with a Horn' I stood in front of a microphone for four days and footed on a trumpet. But that wasn't anything compared to sitting down for six days. I never realized how many muscles of your body you use when you just sit."

"But everytime I'd get so tired I almost couldn't stand it I'd look at Jane and there she was, looking just as fresh and bouncy as ever."

"Then I'd tell myself to quit being a sissy and that if Jane could do it, I certainly should be able to."

"Why, Kirk," giggled Jane, "if you only knew how many times I said to myself: 'As long as Kirk holds out, I will, even if it kills me!'"

Will Accept New Ideas For Classes

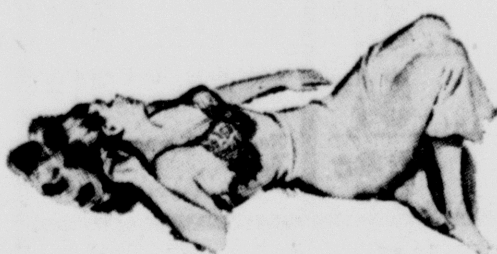

Y.W.C.A. Preparing For New Creative Classes To Start Next February

Y W C A wants to organize new classes next spring that women and girls of New Castle want. Already many have signed for the beginners and advanced sewing classes.

The latter part of February is announced as the new starting time for these classes. Requests for any kind of a class will be considered.

Displays of the slipcovers, lamp shades and unique articles made in the sewing tool class, caused a great deal of interest and probably many more will enroll in next year's classes.

Male Fashion Stylists Plan Drastic Changes

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ST. GEORGE'S, Bermuda, Dec. 8.—The American male has his 1950 fashion fate decided for him today by a 48-man panel of men's wear experts, who plan to make him:

1. Colorful, from shoes to champagne.
2. Casual, from morning to night.
3. This liberation of man from stilted styles was agreed on by top U. S. retailers and manufacturers, flown to Bermuda by Esquire magazine for a three-day, trend-setting confab.

The conferees met in the swishy St. George hotel for a series of closed sessions, and decided that next spring's gentleman of distinction must be distinctly different from 1949's.

Evening Moccasins
He will wear lightweight, colorful slacks, and figured sport shirts; ties with regularity of design but sharply contrasting colors; high-color knitted sport caps and bright-brimmed straw hats; patent leather moccasins for evening shoes, and tartan plaid ties and cummerbunds with tuxes.

The men who make fashion also decreed a growing popularity for knee-length shorts for golf, and gay silk ascots to fill in the plunging V of open shirts—especially for hairy-chested men.

To prove their faith in the fashion rejuvenation they advocate, the delegates wore their personal versions of the new mode.

O. E. Schoeffler, Esquire fashion editor, sported gray flannel shorts, a blue flannel jacket, knee-length yellow wool socks with matching silk ascot in the neck of his pale blue sport shirt.

Bright Visor Caps
Herrman Stephens, Chicago menswear executive, golfed in a knitted checked cap, shaped like a beret with attached stiff visor.

When the sun was high, the visor went down. When the wind turned cold, the cap cupped over his ears.

Nebraska clothing expert John Swanson wore coral and gold slacks interchangeably, and other men in the fashion group specialized in tartan plaid blazers, checked shirts, vivid-colored trousers, and a silk ascot to one out of three necklines.

Native Bermudians, who had rolled out their best coral carpets for the party, were dazzled.

The turquoise water, the pink limestone, the glorious passion flower were colorful, they said. But home was never like American fashion!

Pair Rob Jewelry Store Of Diamonds

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today continued to search for two slick "shoppers" who they said stole diamond rings from a jewelry store valued at $2,000.

Police said a man about 25 or 30 years old entered the store yesterday and made a down payment on a dresser set. Later, he returned with a companion and while selecting a cigarette lighter the companion slipped off with a tray of rings. One ring was valued at $550.

Execution Date Set By Governor

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The execution of George Minoff, convicted slayer of two men in a factional row over the selection of a church pastor in April 1948, is scheduled for February 27, 1950.

Gov. James H. Duff fixed the execution date far enough in advance to allow the condemned man to appeal for clemency to the State Pardons Board.

The Dauphin county court tried Minoff in June, 1948, for shooting Kotze Atzeff and Boris Mloff during a meeting in the basement of the Macedonian-Bulgarian church in Steelton.

A motion for re-trial was dismissed in Dauphin county and Minoff appealed to the State Supreme Court which upheld judgment of the trial court.

Minoff will be transferred from Dauphin county prison to Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte, for execution.

NO PROFIT HERE

RICHMOND, Va.—The owners of a large Richmond department store ruefully surveyed the wreck of the big plate glass display window. Someone had tossed a brick through the window to get three $1 bills pasted on the inside as part of a display. The window was valued at $300.

Aluminum Workers Returning To Jobs

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Many of 17,000 workers of the Aluminum Company of America and the CIO United Steelworkers were returning to work today following the signing of a contract with the CIO United Steelworkers ending an eight-week strike in nine states.

Company officials said some of the firm's employees will be called back to work today, and others will be recalled as soon as possible.

The new contract was signed yesterday providing $100 monthly pensions, including Social Security, a company financed social insurance plan and plan to correct wage rate inequities. Pensions are for retiring men 65-year-of-age and over with 25 years of service.

Total Loss From Fires Common On Farms Of Nation

DENVER—(INS)—The National Board of Fire Underwriters, in a call for increased rural fire protection, points out that total losses from fire, while rare in cities, still are common in farm fires.

The board says the modern farm has most of the fire hazards found in a small factory, but usually fewer precautions against fires are noted in rural communities. It points out that once a fire starts on a farm it is more difficult to bring the blaze under control because of equipment limitations, and the time necessary to bring the equipment to the scene of the fire. The annual farm fire loss was listed at $100,000,000, and the board believes this loss could be materially lessened by increased fire protection in rural areas.

Lightning Causes One-Third

Lightning rods, the board says, could prevent one-third of all farm fires. Each farm building should be protected by installation of a proper type lightning rod, each of which should bear the seal of approval of the Underwriters' laboratories.

Here are some hints for fire prevention on farms:

1. Care should be exercised in storing and use of gasoline. Fuel should not be allowed to spill, or drop on hot engine parts during refueling.
2. Small quantities of gasoline should be stored in a safety can. The main supply should be stored underground, and the tank should be equipped with a standard pump.
3. Tractors should not be stored nor operated in hay barns.
4. Electrical equipment should be inspected frequently to avoid electrical fires. New wiring or motor installations should be inspected by a fire department official or other authority.

PICKPOCKETS BUSY

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Chicago pickpockets were busy fingering their trade in the Christmas shopping rush today.

But police were on the job, too. In the first six days of December, some 100 men and women were seized for purse snatching and shoplifting.

Coffee consumption in the United States now averages more than 17 pounds per person per annum, including children.

RICH HILL

The girls and boys of the Junior S.S. class were entertained at their Christmas party by their teacher, Mrs. William Knight. Roller skating was the pastime. Refreshments were enjoyed at a local tearoom. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sholler and family, and Mrs. Hettie Sholler visited Sunday with Dannie Dean of Highland Heights, who has returned to his home from Jameson hospital following an injury to his eye.

Mrs. William Jenkins and son, Billie, of New Castle, spent several days this past week with Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McConnell.

Mrs. William R. Knight entertained her Knight sisters at an informal party on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Willis Shallenberger furnished entertainment. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her niece, Miss Nancy Hackett. Door prize was awarded to Mrs. James Fobes.

The Washington Home Economics met with Mrs. Eugene Kendall on Thursday. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. L. McKnight.

Mrs. Henry Wilson will be hostess on Thursday to the Thursday Dinner club for their annual Christmas party. Revealing of secret pals and the drawing for the previous year will be one feature of the program.

Mrs. Robert McCandless and Glenda, of Plain Grove, Mrs. Ralph McConnell and daughters, of Volant, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spears were Monday evening callers of Mrs. Henry Wilson.

Mrs. Howard Boyles and Mrs. Jesse Carr attended the County Home economics meeting at Liberty Grange on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knight of New Castle were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Knight.

Mrs. T. H. Tennant and daughter, Deborah, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butia and family of Little Lancaster.

Mrs. Howard Boyles, Mrs. Robert Barron, Mrs. Harold Alborn, and Mrs. Jesse Carr were Youngstown callers Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Giles and Mrs. Pearl Reynolds of New Castle were Thursday evening supper guests of Mrs. Edward Cotton.

A new plastic gift package has been developed as part of the trimming of a Christmas tree. Cylindrical, it has a colorful electric light bulb in the cardboard top, which is printed in four colors to suggest the drippings of a candle wax.

Around Hollywood

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 8.—Robert (The Baron) Stephano has been fired by Samuel Goldwin 83 times but still thinks Sam is the nicest guy in the movie industry.

The Baron, who came by his nickname because he happens to be a member of nobility in Macedonia, is a "lily-gilder." As a make-up man, he has powdered and patty-caked the pretty faces of hundreds of movie queens in 1,803 movies.

He has been on the Goldwyn payroll for 24 years, man and boy, which means that Sam has given him the old heave-ho an average of three and one-half times each year.

Has Thick Accent

The Baron, who still speaks with a thick accent and who carries an air of royalty that makes "Prince" Mike Romanoff look like a lumberjack, admitted today:

"Sam and I have a lot of fun. I'm the only man in Hollywood who isn't afraid to talk up to him. If a guy is scared of his boss, then he really is scared of himself."

"So if Sam says something about some detail on a picture and I think he's wrong, I tell him so."

"We've had hundreds of arguments. Sam gets so mad at me sometimes, that he hollers: 'You're fired!'"

"So I go off the payroll. Next day he hires me back."

"He always says he fires me so he can rehired me and fire me again."

Niven Was Best

The Baron thinks the most interesting make-up job he ever performed was on David Niven, when he made the British actor appear to be an 83-year-old man in "Enchantment."

He got his biggest kick out of altering Hedy Lamarr's make-up technique for "Algiers."

"Before that picture," he said, "her make-up hid too much of her natural beauty. She didn't like it when I changed it—but after that picture she became a big star. She still uses the same kind of make-up."

PRETTY BIG FAMILY

Myrna Loy reported today that it is rather difficult to have a family of 12 children foisted suddenly upon you.

She is portraying the mother of that many offspring in "Cheaper by the Dozen" at 20th Century-Fox.

"That makes 24 names you have to remember," she said. "The real ones and the fictional ones. I've ruined a lot of scenes calling the children by their real names instead of their character ones."

The situation became so bad with the actors mixing names that Director Walter Lang put through a rule:

Everyone has to call everybody else by his fictional name, whether in a scene or chatting in a dressing room.

SOOT TAKES FIRE

Damage of around $5 resulted from a fireplace fire in the home of Mrs. Mary Bryson, of 310 Knox street, at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday. Soot gathered in the old fireplace which was not properly bricked up. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated, B Truck company answered a still alarm to the scene.

Housewives Are Cause Of Coffee Shortage, Claim

BOCA RATON Fla., Dec. 8.—(INS)—U. S. housewives who have been concerned over the coffee shortage and spiraling coffee prices have been accused by a coffee industry leader of contributing to the situation themselves.

W. F. Williamson, secretary-manager of the National Coffee Association which is holding a national convention in Boca Raton, yesterday declared:

"Newspaper stock market pages carried reports of a shortage of futures in coffee stocks. Housewives misinterpreted the story, thinking it meant a shortage of coffee itself."

"They suddenly bought 200 million pounds more than the usual demand. Thus, they actually created the shortage."

In Norway, Christmas gifts are hidden away and the children have to search for them. In Italy, the gifts are drawn from the "Urn of Fate," a custom which originated with the ancient Romans.

Clen-Moore P.T.A. Hears Review By Mrs. Sam Staats

Honor Retiring Secretary: Clen-Moore Teacher Gives Book Review: Gift Exchange

Members of the Clen-Moore Parent-Teachers Association met Tuesday evening in the school building. The president, James Keglar, conducted the business portion of the meeting. Mrs. Charles Bashew, secretary, is leaving New Castle to make her home in New Jersey. She was honored by the group, and given thanks for her cooperation in the past. Mrs. Claude Crill was elected secretary. A nominating committee will appoint room mothers for each grade.

who will act as a contact between the teacher and parents.

The cub-scout pow-wow of the Kuskuski District will be held at the Clen-Moore building on Saturday, December 10, with the P.T.A. serving the evening meal.

Book Reviewed

Mrs. S. G. Staats, first grade teacher at Clen-Moore, was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Staats reviewed the book "While the Angels Sing," which was well received by the entire group.

The group then held a gift exchange in the recreation room, where delicious refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. C. Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hatley, and Mrs. Fred Jenkins. Gay Christmas decorations added a festive air to the room.

Women's Society Meets At Epworth

Group Three of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Epworth Methodist church gathered in the home of Mrs. Charles Miller of East Garfield avenue.

Using the Christmas story, Mrs. James Dunkerly led devotions. Mrs. J. F. Rentz read a story from "The Pattern," while Mrs. Russell P. Rhodes told a seasonal story, "Looking For the Christ Child."

Mrs. A. C. Howe, who was responsible for the program, presented five girls from the Youth Fellowship, who told how Christmas is observed in other lands and in some of our schools at home. The following, dressed in costume to represent a certain country, part: the Misses Sally Roberts, Rosanna Burgo, Ruth Thompson, Patty Dix and Doris Grossman. Mrs. Howe and Miss D. Drushel pleased with several appropriate selections on the violin. Miss Thompson offered the closing prayer.

Mrs. V. O. Potter and Mrs. William Warrick, co-hostesses, aided Mrs. Miller in serving lunch. Mrs. J. F. Rentz, of Winter avenue, will entertain at her home Monday, January 9.

In the Middle Ages secular celebration of Christmas was not confined to one day but sometimes extended to Epiphany and, occasionally, from St. Thomas' Day to Candlemas.

St. Nicholas is regarded as the special saint of the schoolboy, and certain of the customs of "Mitten Day" at Eton school in England, are said to have originated in his honor.

KEEP CHILD IN MIND WHEN CHOOSING TOYS

Toys received at Christmas can contribute to a child's enjoyment and delight and can help him to learn to live happily now and in the future. This is why it is very important to choose toys wisely, keeping in mind the child who will be using them.

Play is serious business to the child. His toys are his tools; his playroom and yard are his laboratory. He experiments, tests, and acquires skills as he plays with his toys. Through play a child learns about his place in the family, the neighborhood, and the world. In play he overcomes his fears by building courage; he plays out hate and love; he works through his repressions and confusions.

Practically the same toys are appealing to both boys and girls two to five years of age. They need creative materials, such as easel and finger paints, clay, geometrically sized blocks, crayons and papers. Because muscles that make small movements of fingers possible do not develop until the child is older, the two- to five-year-old child will show less tension and strain if his toys call for action using only large movements made with the large muscles.

Toys that can be taken apart and put together again are suggested for young children. The pieces should be large and geared to the child's abilities for dismantling and reassembling.

Children are able to tell the difference between colors before they can name them. Small children, 15 to 30 months of age, will be especially interested and happy in color-matching toys.

Four- and five-year-olds, both boys and girls, are interested in imitative play. They want small brooms, mops and dishes so they can do the things they see their mothers do. They will want dolls and playhouse furniture; they will thrill with tricycles, wheelbarrows and wagons which one day may be fire engines and another day something else that suits their fancy. Smaller toys, like trains and miniature animal and human figures, fit in well with block play. Children use these in their imaginative play, acting out the things they see so that they understand them better.

BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS AGAIN ON DOWN GRADE

Bovine tuberculosis is again on the down grade after a slight but ominous rise in the number of infected animals. Scientists working for complete eradication now think that the slight setback during the war may even have been a good thing because it revealed the great danger of complacency.

The low point in the nation-wide record was made in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, when only one animal out of 542 showed reaction to the test. By 1945 this had changed to one reactor in each 416 animals tested. This was not a serious loss but would have been serious if it had continued. But with return of veterinarians after the war a change for the better has occurred, and the 1949 figure approaches the 1943 low point. For 1949 there was one reactor to 514 tested animals.

Lawrence county had a very low rate of infection at the time of the last test nearly two years ago. This has emphasized the need for continuing vigilance. Tuberculosis in the cattle herds could come back unless the campaign is continued until the disease is fully eradicated. Current work includes perfecting of testing for handling borderline cases and animals which react but show no visible evidences of the disease when slaughtered. Bovine tuberculosis has now become so scarce that veterinary schools sometimes have difficulty in locating tubercular cattle for study by students.

BAIT ORCHARD MICE IN CLEAR WEATHER

For best results, set poison bait for orchard mice in fair weather. Unless these field pests are destroyed, they may cause serious injury to fruit trees during the winter.

Where bait stations have been located for about ten days, the poison preparations can be distributed at the first opportunity. Since mice like fair weather for stirring about in the fields, the bait can be put out to best advantage when the weather is warm, bright and still. Bait placed in the morning will remain fresh for the afternoon when mice do most of their foraging.

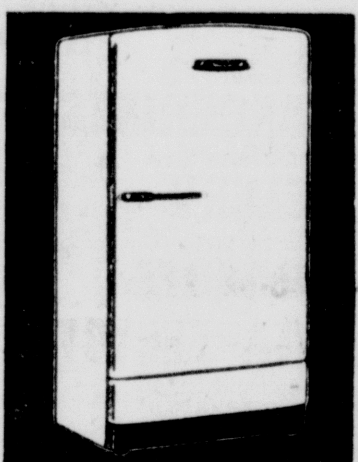

Bait stations may consist of bundles of corn fodder, two bushel basket lids nailed together with asphalt paper between them, or other cover attractive to mice, located where the mice will congregate to make poisoning effective. If the mouse infestation is heavy, orchardists are urged to take advantage and precautions by stripping the sod away from tree-trunks for a distance of three feet or more. Care must be taken, however, to cover the trunk with soil to the original level to guard against injury by winter weather.

A copy of the publication "Protecting Pennsylvania Orchards Against Mice, Deer and Rabbits" may be secured from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This publication provides detailed information and use of bait against orchard mice.

For many centuries Christmas was observed solely as a church anniversary and only by religious services.

Chiang Kai-Shek Reported On Way To Formosa Now

HONG KONG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was unofficially reported today to have left his provisional capital of Chengtu aurally for Formosa.

Travelers from Chengtu, in western China's Szechuan province, arrived in Hong Kong with word that communist troops have reached a point 20 miles southeast of the temporary Nationalist capital.

They said that in addition to Chiang, Nationalist Premier Yen Hsi-shan left by plane this morning for the island bastion off the east China coast.

The travelers said other Nationalist cabinet officers departed yesterday.

Oak Street Board Makes Plans For Holiday Baskets

Christmas Treat Planned For Children; School Board Guests At Next Meeting

The Executive board of the Oak Street Parent-Teachers association held its monthly meeting in the teachers' room of the school.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. S. Vanassa, chairman of the Christmas basket project, and Mrs. S. Kavesky, chairman of the Christmas tree project. It was decided to have a tree furnished by the school, and the children will begin bringing donations of canned goods or toys starting the week of December 19.

Baskets will be distributed by the school nurse, Mrs. John Thompson, on December 22. Any remaining foods or toys will be given to the City Mission committee for distribution.

To Receive Treat

Pupils of the school will receive their annual Christmas treat from Santa on December 22. Mrs. Vanassa and Mrs. Kavesky were asked to appoint committees and begin work on the Christmas project.

It was announced that John Lawson, field scout executive in Lawrence county, will be present at the December 13 meeting to talk to the parents concerning cub scouting.

Mrs. William McCullough, chairman of the Room Mothers, announced that Mrs. Joseph Fabian is the new room mother for the second grade, taught by Mrs. Hotchkiss. She also stated that there is a great increase in membership over the previous years.

President of the unit, Mrs. John Susko, asked for the approval of money for placards used on the P. T. A. float in the Armistice parade. She gave a report of the trophy presentation at the Rose Avenue P. T. A. meeting recently. Each school is to have the trophy for a period of two weeks. Mrs. Susko also announced that each father of a child at Oak Street school will be sent a letter, inviting him to the next P. T. A. meeting.

Honor School Board

On Tuesday, December 13, at 7:45 o'clock in the school building, special honor will be given to the past and present school board members, who have been invited to attend the meeting. All principals and president of the P. T. A. units of the elementary schools are to be given special invitations to attend the meeting.

Any interested member of the public is also invited to attend this meeting. The school board will be honored for what they have done in the past for the schools of New Castle.

A program of Christmas music will be given by a chorus of school pupils, under the direction of Mrs. P. Crowe.

Record Low Set For Accidental Industry Deaths

More Than 90 Per Cent Of Accidents Attributed To Infraction Of Safety Rules

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A new record low of 54 accidental deaths in Pennsylvania industry was set during October, the Department of Labor and Industry reports.

Accidents during the month totaled 7,424, a drop of 59 from the previous month and the lowest since December 1946.

Sixty-four fatalities were listed for September. During the first 10 months of 1949, there were 737 industrial deaths compared to 916 for a like period last year, according to the department.

The agency said more than 90 per cent of the accidents were attributed to infractions of general safety rules.

HAPPY FOOTNOTE TO MINE TRUCE

IT LOOKED LIKE a dreary Christmas for families of coal miners until John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, issued the three-day back-to-work order. Now Santa Claus is expected to come through. To make sure that he won't forget, Patty Lengle and Sally Virgili of Indianola, Pa., are mailing their letters to him early. (International Soundphoto)

Today's Fashion Flash

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A new nuance in fashion is taking hold at Bermuda's plus Mid-Ocean Club today: plaid pants and flannel jackets for men! The fad was introduced this week by radio star Tex McCary who arrived for informal luncheon wearing lemon yellow-red-and-white plaid slacks, with a beige flannel jacket.

"This," said McCary, "is my favorite costume."

PRESENTING ENGAGEMENT RING

"For the past six months I have been working out of town, making it difficult for me to get home often. When I go home on my next visit I'm going to ask the 'one and only girl' to marry me. I know her feelings for me are as deep as mine for her and that her answer will probably be 'yes.' In view of these circumstances, do you think I might take along the engagement ring ready to present it to her?"

Answer: Unless the exigencies of your job make it imperative that engagement take place immediately, do not appear with the ring until she has said "yes." Ask her either in a letter or when you go home. You might have the ring ordered and surprise her with it after she has accepted you. But if you have never broached the subject of marriage to her, she will doubtless consider you too confident, if you present her with the ring at the time of your proposal. On the contrary, if your correspondence has hinted your intention and her replies encourage you, she will probably expect your question and have her affirmative answer ready, in which case you may take the ring along with you. But I'll give you a little hint. Most women, if not all, have particular ideas about the kind of engagement ring they want; so if you really want to please her, take her along and let her select something to her liking within your means, of course.

Question: What is correctly used to crumb the dinner table napkin or a scraper?

Answer: A folded napkin is generally used and correctly so. The silver scraper, sometimes used, is not suitable for a lace cloth, although it may be used on a plain cloth.

WALLGREN NAMED
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Mon C. Wallgren, former governor of Washington, on Wednesday was unanimously elected vice-chairman of the Federal Power commission to serve during 1950. Wallgren has been a member of the commission since November 2, 1947. Under provisions of the Federal Power Act, the FPC each year selects one of its members to serve as vice chairman. Wallgren succeeds Commissioner Claude L. Draper who has served in 1949.

Customers' Corner

The anti-trust lawyers who want to put A&P out of business don't like our low price policy. They say we use it to drive competitors out of business.

Actually, as every customer knows, our low price policy is designed to do just one thing: Give you more good food for your money.

Here are the facts about our low price policy:

1. We keep our profits at a minimum. They averaged less than 1½ cents on each dollar of sales during the past five years.
2. We have for years had a strict policy against below-cost selling.
3. We do not have any "week-end specials" but feature low prices the whole week long.
4. We charge the lowest practical prices everywhere we operate.

That is why we say, regardless of where you live, you will save money week in and week out by doing all your shopping at A&P.

NO MORE GUESSING

THE PRICE IS NOW MARKED ON EVERY ITEM AT YOUR A&P... NOT JUST ON THE SHELVES!

Do you keep track of your expenditures as you shop ... check your purchases against your cash register slip as you put them away ... compare current prices with those you've been paying? We don't blame you a bit for those thrifty habits. In fact, we're making them easier for you by marking the price of every item in your A&P right on its container, as well as on our shelves. Stop in and see how helpful this new price-marking policy can be to you!

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Fruits and vegetables are naturally better when they're harvested fresh, delivered fresh and sold fresh. That's one reason so many people prefer A&P's fruits and vegetables. Want another? Take a look at A&P's thrifty prices!

"SUPER-RIGHT" MEATS

Executives Of P.T.A.
Meet In Ward School

Committee Named For Making Capes: Report Progress In Clubs Cooperative Effort

In the teachers' room of Mahoning school, a meeting of the executive committee of Parents-Teachers Association was held on Tuesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Mary Zumpella in charge.

The president read a report from Ward Civic club indicating favorable progress in the cooperative effort of the local organizations in raising funds to pay for the material for capes for the school band.

The following committee was named, who will do the cutting and sewing of the material, Mrs. Ann Benson, chairman, Mrs. Arkie DeFelice, co-chairman, Mrs. Gwendolyn Stone, Mrs. LaRue Blangero, Mrs. Jean Kennedy, Mrs. Mary Zumpella, Mrs. Mildred Porter.

Mrs. Mae Culbertson stated that a nice sum had been realized from the project sponsored by her committee. Mrs. Marjorie Freeman reported the tentative plans of the program committee for remainder of the year.

Next regular meeting will be held Tuesday evening, December 13, in the school auditorium, and the program will be in the form of an entertainment. Mrs. Zumpella urges interested parents to attend the school board meetings, in conjunction with representatives from other P.T.A.s in the City.

The president states that mothers have been chosen as room representatives, and will be introduced at December meeting.

Mrs. Florence White announced the hostesses for December meeting, Mrs. Elsie Skillen, Mrs. Rose Conti, Mrs. Theresa Ross, Mrs. Leona Felix, Mrs. Helen Wagner, Mrs. Vera Wagner, Mrs. Madeline Gorgacz, Mrs. Mary Stone, Mrs. Angeline Picuta, Mrs. Anna Kilmer, Mrs. Jennie Cernano, Mrs. Elvira Rouzo and Mrs. Virginia Berry.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Stone served the group with a splendid lunch. Coffee was served from one of the two new urns, earned and donated to the organization by Mrs. Florence White and her committee.

Penna BOs Enjoy Christmas Dinner

At the Leslie hotel, members of the Penna BO lodge gathered on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m., and partook of a splendid dinner, with the table beautifully decorated in Christmas fashion. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Delia McCort gave the invocation.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Louise Ridley, Mrs. Ruth King, and Mrs. Pearl Jones.

The group adjourned to the sitting room, where there was an exchange of gifts. Cards and a social period was the diversion of the afternoon, with prizes going to Mrs. Henrietta Powers and Mrs. Dora Broadus.

Next meeting will be on Wednesday afternoon, December 14, in the Y.W.C.A. green room.

Navyman On Leave Goes Back To Ship

Edward Park, fireman, U. S. Navy, attached to the U.S.S. Destroyer Roberts, has returned to Boston, Mass., after spending 30 days leave, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Park of 923 West Clayton street. He recently returned from a good-will tour throughout Europe. His ship is being overhauled. He has been in the service for 18 months.

Meetings Scheduled For This Evening

In the auditorium of St. Lucy's church, the Holy Rosary and Sacred Heart sodality will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Rose Leone in charge.

This evening there will be a regular meeting of St. Margaret's Council No. 74, in St. Margaret's hall. Plans will be made for election of officers Sunday afternoon from 1 to 8 o'clock. Plans will be completed for Christmas treat for the kiddies, and New Year's Eve party. Nick Perrotta, president.

Women's Missionary society of Madison Avenue Christian church will be entertained this evening by Mrs. E. M. Jones of Sunnyside, Mt. Jackson road, at 8 o'clock.

A united Christmas party will be sponsored this evening by the M.E.G. Auxiliary and K.J.U. Bible class of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, at the home of Mrs. A. C. Brown, 302 East Leasure avenue, at 8 o'clock.

Past presidents of B.R.T. Auxiliary meet this afternoon at home of Mrs. T. J. LaRock at 1 o'clock, for a Christmas party.

Happy Go Lucky club meets this evening, with Mrs. Helen Padice, 523 West Cherry street.

1937 Club Meets, Elects Officers

Members of the 1937 club met Wednesday evening in St. Margaret's hall with Mrs. Margaret Masters presiding.

Following the business session, there was an election of officers: President, Mrs. Ruth Prescaro; vice president, Mrs. Margaret Masters; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth DiVivo; financial secretary, Mrs. Viola Cubellis; corresponding secretary, and reporter, Mrs. Mary Russo; trustee, Mrs. Catherine West; hall guard, Mrs. Antonette Lombardo; standard bearers, Mrs. Doris Masters and Mrs. Mary Zumpella.

Plans were made for a Christmas party on Monday evening, December 9, at 6 p.m., in the hall with Mrs. Ruth Prescaro, chairlady, and Mrs. Viola Cubellis, co-chairlady. On December 29 there will be a spaghetti supper to be held for the benefit of the Mahoning school band for the making of new capes. The officers will be in charge.

Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Grandson Dies Quite Suddenly Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. James W. King, 210 North Lafayette street, have been notified of the sudden death of their grandson, Robert Boyd Kelly Jr., aged three and a half years, in Youngstown on Wednesday.

The little lad who had not been ill, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Kelly, 134 Saranac avenue, Youngstown. Mrs. Kelly was the former Grace King and resided with her parents here prior to her marriage.

Surviving, in addition to the grandparents on Lafayette street, is the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Tod Kelly of Youngstown.

The body of Bobby has been taken to the Thompson funeral home in Youngstown, where services will be conducted on Saturday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Lake Shore Memorial cemetery, Poland, O.

Modern Eights Plan Christmas Party

Members of the Modern Eight club were entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Ann Belisco of 201 West Wabash avenue.

A nice chicken dinner, and fine dessert, was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Marie Ascione.

Card games were the diversion of the evening, with the prize being won by Mrs. Margaret Carbone.

Plans were made for a Christmas party at next meeting, in the home of Mrs. Rose Frenzel of South Ashland avenue, Tuesday, December 20, at 8 o'clock.

SANTA SAYS
I'll be at Weller's Hardware Saturday, December 10, 1 to 5 p.m. Have your kiddies picture taken with Santa, beautifully finished, immediate development. Make Weller's your toy and gift headquarters.

SEVENTH WARD NOTES
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tindall of Willow Grove have returned from Toronto, O., where they visited with the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Heaton and family.

Ernest Tindall of Willow Grove, who has been ill at his home for several days, is much improved, and able to be out.

GAS SHUT-OFF AVERTS FIRES

CLEVELAND—(INS)—A Cleveland fireman has invented a device which may save countless lives and millions of dollars in property values annually.

Lieut. John F. Kelly, who has served with the Cleveland fire department for 31 years, spent ten years perfecting his gadget, which automatically shuts off the flow of gas from intake pipes.

From his experience, Kelly learned that most fires melt the tin meter boxes at the end of gas lines leading into buildings, permitting the gas to shoot out in a seven-foot, high-pressure stream into the flames.

Firemen must go into the burning building and shut off the intake valves, or else look for an outside valve.

The valve, which he calls the "Kelly-Byrne Positive Gas Shut-Off Valve," consists of a small plunger that falls between the gas line and the meter box when the temperature becomes 140 degrees—110 degrees lower than that at which the box usually melts.

British Airline Showing Profit

LONDON—(INS)—British European Airways, Britain's State airline which runs the Continental services, made a profit in July for the first time since it was formed three years ago.

Losing money steadily since 1946 the BEA turned the scales in July when it flew 100,000 passengers—567 of them to Paris in one day.

Lord Douglas of Kirtleside made the announcement but did not issue any figures although he added: "It won't be the last time BEA makes a profit."

It is understood that the profit for the month was between $100,000 and $200,000.

Lord Douglas also revealed that BEA and BOAC were buying Vickers Viscount planes which are expected to be the first jet airlines serving any route.

The most generally-spoken dialects in the United States are Middle Western.

What you should know about Christmas

WASHINGTON COPS DON'T LIKE MAYBE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Washington cops don't like "maybe" for an answer.

Also, they don't like suicides from the Sousa bridge over the Anacostia river.

refused to give his name—he answered all questions with "maybe"—is in Gallinger hospital for observation.

The maybe man was picked up after he was seen leaning on the bridge rail for a prolonged period of time.

Pollock Avenue Home Is Robbed

Residence of Mike Roth, 1130 Pollock avenue, was thoroughly ransacked, and robbed of money and jewelry between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, according to a report to police.

The burglary was committed while the Roth family witnessed a motion picture show.

Reported stolen was $10 from a piggy bank, $6 from a pocketbook, $10 enclosed in a bank-book, man's Elgin pocket watch, ladies' white gold locket, ladies' lapped watch, and also a basket pin.

The Pollock avenue home burglar entered the home through an outside cellar door, after which it was barricaded. He also locked the dining room door, then opened a window in the dining room, and also a second floor window, to afford him two ways to escape if surprised while robbing the house.

The Puritans frowned on the excessive jollity with which Christmas was observed in England in their time and succeeded in having Parliament forbid any uproarious festivities.

Rebels Give Blood To Army Wounded

ATHENS—(INS)—Some of the Greek Army soldiers wounded in the recent operations against the Communist rebels' Grammos stronghold will have Communist blood pumped into them to restore their health.

One-hundred fifty Communists, imprisoned in an Aegean Sea penitentiary island for anti-state activities, have spontaneously offered to donate their blood to wounded soldiers, "to atone for the harm done by the rebels."

"Shame!" exclaimed an indignant right-wing Athenian newspaper in an editorial commenting on the news. "Our wounded require unpolluted Greek blood, not the blood of criminals."

Booklets Explain Soldier's Bonus

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Approximately 1,700,000 booklets explaining provisions of Pennsylvania's World War II Soldiers'

Bonus have been sent to distribution points throughout the state. The pamphlets will be issued to ex-servicemen and women at veterans organizations, state armories, state police sub-stations and offices of the U. S. Employment Service, universities and colleges, Veterans Administration and hospitals.

Provide Apples For Children In New York Schools

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The practice of bringing an apple to the teacher is going to be reversed in New York City's schools.

Seventy carloads of New York state apples, bought as surplus by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under its farm parity program, will be distributed by teachers to the city's 886,000 public school children at the rate of two a week for each child.

Although the tractor has become an important item on the farm, draft horses continue to be bred in large numbers.

Only Woman In Shop Holds Job As Supervisor

By FALLON TROTTER
(U. S. S. Special Correspondent)

MOBILE, Ala.—(INS)—Somebody once made a movie about 100 men and a girl. But Brookley air force base claims something better than that—500 men and a girl.

Mrs. Ima Lou Alford is the only woman working in the engine repair department these days and is proud of it. And she should be, because she's a unit supervisor in spite of the many skilled mechanics among her 500 male co-workers.

Mrs. Alford wasn't the only woman when she started. It was a war-time affair and when she began in 1942, there were 500 women working there instead of 500 men. She started as a mechanic in the repair department, then she became a packer, preparing planes for shipment and storage.

Quit Then Resumed
Mrs. Alford quit in 1946, deciding to take a vacation—her first—and see again how it was to keep house all the time.

The comparative inactivity lasted for two years but then the urge to "put in a full eight" got too much and she asked for a job at Brookley.

She was put to work in engine repair again as a packer and it was no time at all before she was supervising the line, where engine parts are dipped with a protective coating.

The tall, rather slender woman has a break in her husband—he can cook. Mr. Alford owns his own job hauling business and the two have their working lives straightened out fine.

In their off days, they usually get a boat and go fishing out in Mobile Bay.

But in spare time at home, she turns to her hands—crocheting and embroidery. She said she finds them "relaxing."

QUINTS STORY FALSE

LONDON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Reuters reported today from Bogota, Columbia, that a father's boasts were the basis of a false story of quintuplets being born in Columbia's Antioquia province.

Thousands of persons, including reporters and photographers, flocked by automobile and horseback to the shack where the peasant parents of the alleged quintuplets lived. They found, said Reuters, five boys of different ages.

In the Middle Ages the lighting of the Yule log was the signal for commencement of the festivities observing Christmas.

Jeremiah Teaches Personal Religion REPENTANCE, FORGIVENESS, RIGHTEOUS LIVING PLEASES GOD.

Scripture—Jeremiah 8:4-7: 31

Baruch writing Jeremiah's prophecy.

"Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."—Romans 13:10

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Are people today better than those of a few thousand years ago? Anyone can start an argument at any time by asking that question, and it never has been settled.

At first glance at our modern world one thinks they are better. Then a look around and a little thought makes this seem doubtful. Our last two wars have certainly brought out the brutality and inhumanity in man which can be equally matched only in those long-ago days children read about in their history books.

If the Prophet Jeremiah were alive today, would he not be justified in standing on the public square of almost any city or town and calling for repentance for mankind's sins?

Not only did he berate men for their wickedness and call on them to repent and beg forgiveness, but he threatened them with the destruction of their persons, families, homes and country.

God was angry with His chosen people, was Jeremiah's theme, and unless these "backsliders" realized their wickedness, they were doomed.

"Thus said the Lord," Jeremiah orated: "Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return, 'I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright; no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? everyone turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle."

"Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but My people know not the judgment of the Lord."

It is odd that in spite of all Jeremiah's warnings, few seemed to heed his words. He could not rouse them to the danger of their situation, or make them understand how evil their manner of living was.

The birds of the air knew what they should do. They inherited instinct told them when to mate, when to build and raise young, when to take flight for a warmer or colder climate. Yet man thought he was wiser and cleverer than birds or beasts.

Chapter 26 tells us once again, as in a previous lesson, of the word of God coming to Jeremiah in the reign of Jehoiakim, telling him to warn the people of their shortcomings, and pleading with them to repent before it was too late.

Speaking before the priests, princess and people he recited the Lord's message, which contained the threat of the destruction of their beloved city of Jerusalem. This made them all furious, and they shouted at him: "Thou shalt surely die."

Jeremiah said, "The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard."

"As for me, behold, I am in your hand; do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you."

"But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth the Lord sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears."

This brave speech changed the minds of the crowds and they decided that he should not be put to death.

In the 31st chapter of Jeremiah, he tells of the Lord's goodness to his repentant and forgiven children in the new kingdom, when He would make a new covenant with them. After this new covenant there would be no need to teach of God, because He would be in all their hearts.

Finally, we would take notice of our Memory Verse. If we followed its teachings—which was Jesus'—was would really cease—we would fear it no more. Love can do no wrong.

If the nations would try that—possibly not loving, but trying to understand one another; looking for virtues instead of fault-finding; each minding its own business and leaving others to practice their own individual concept of better government—what a change would come about in a short time! How happy the world could be!

Bonus Applications In Mail January 12

Veterans Posts, State Offices, Schools And Services To Distribute Forms

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Distribution of bonus applications is planned for January 12 by the State Department of Military Affairs.

Adj. Gen. F. A. Weber said the distribution will embrace forms and instruction sheets, application blanks plus return envelopes.

Approximately 3,000,000 sets are being printed for use by ex-servicemen and women while about 200,000 are being prepared for the beneficiaries of deceased servicemen. Surviving veterans will use Form One while beneficiaries will use Form Two.

Weber said the material is being received daily from the printer but that distribution cannot be started until sets have been assembled.

When completed, the sets will be sent to major veterans organizations for distribution through member posts, and to state armories, state police sub-stations, schools and colleges, state headquarters, the state employment service offices, various divisions of the veterans administration and all armed forces camps at home and abroad.

Clyde E. Rankin, director of the compensation bureau, reported that 95 per cent of the 6,608 mail inquiries received so far were from potential out of state applicants.

The date of Christmas as the time of the winter solstice was set by church leaders in 340 A. D. Changes in the man-made calendar cause the variance between the actual days of the solstice and December 25.

STILL AT IT
PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—Charles Haight of the Oregon Journal observed his 87th birthday at his linotype machine setting type. He has been a member of the Journal composing room staff for 30 years.

The carrying into the dining hall of the boat's head by the chief cook heralded the beginning of the elaborate Christmas feast in the homes of the wealthy and powerful in medieval times.

Ninth Air Force To Have Flight Attached To City

Meeting Of 9520th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron Tonight

Ninth Air Force, Langley Field, Va., is now screening applications for membership in the 9520th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron, a flight of which is to be attached to this city, it is announced by J. M. Frew, liaison officer.

Official authorization of this flight and future training plans are expected within a week.

There will be a short meeting of the 9520th at the R.O.A. club rooms, Washington street at 7:30 tonight. Present members will sign the roster. It is urged that any Air Force Reservist, enlisted or commissioned, who is not a member of the active reserve and does not wish to relinquish his rank and retirement pay privileges attend this meeting.

The existing reserve program will be explained and application forms made available for membership in the 9520th squadron.

Church Boards Have Christmas Party

First Methodist Church Scene Of Gathering Honoring Members Of Official Boards

First Methodist church dining and recreation rooms were the scene of a most successful Christmas party for the official board of the church on Wednesday evening. Ninety-three members assembled in the appropriately decorated rooms for the function.

As the evening progressed, Miss Alma Locke appeared in the person of Santa Claus and passed out gifts to the various persons present. Mrs. James Moorehead conducted a song-fest aided at the piano by Ernel Branstetter.

A surprise feature of the evening, was the presentation of a birthday cake to Mrs. Leonard Cramer, president of the W. S. C. S. Games for the evening were in charge of Worrell Jones, Mrs. C. F. Roberts and Mrs. John Frazier. Pictures of the trip that Rev. J. A. Gaiser took to Alaska last summer were shown by the church pastor to the church officials.

General committee in charge of the successful party, included Mrs. C. Ed. Brown, Mrs. J. F. Ray and Mrs. C. F. Roberts. Decoration committee included: Mrs. and Mrs. Jack Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. John Hodge and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Spangler, Jr. During the luncheon, Miss Mary Alice White and Mrs. Leonard Cramer poured. The luncheon was prepared by Mrs. James Elmore, Mrs. Ralph Shiner, Mrs. Dallas Sloan, Mrs. Worrell Jones and Mrs. Ralph Reed.

RANGE NEWS

Willard Grange

The December meeting of Willard Grange will take place on Monday, December 12, instead of December 13, it has been announced. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock with the first and second degrees to be administered.

The first bowl game was held in 1902, when Michigan went west to victimize Stanford 49 to 0 in the Rose Bowl. This was such a spectacular accomplishment that it took 14 years for the next Rose Bowl game to be played. But the time Michigan got back to Pasadena to beat Southern California by the same score—49 to 0—in the 1949 Rose Bowl game, there were 40 bowl contests in operation.

Nine County Schoolboy Quintets See Action Friday

Warm-Up Contest Card Has Four Home Games

Lawrence County High school basketball teams engage in nine games Friday night as all quintets continue pre-league warm-up exhibitions. This is the heaviest single night card of the new 1949-50 cage campaign.

Ellwood, East Brook, Mt. Jackson, and Bessemer see action on home courts while New Castle, Wampum, Shenango, New Wilmington, and Union meet stiff opposition away.

The pre-league schedule is designed to give coaches a chance to work out the best combination of players for a winning season. It also gives fans a chance to anticipate how their favorite club will fare when the boys start playing for keeps early in January.

Ellwood At Home

Ellwood City gets its second test of the year when New Brighton invades Lincoln gym. Ellwood opened at home Tuesday with a 35 to 31 win over Midland. New Brighton lost to Butler 34-22 at the former's court the same night.

New Castle seeks its second win at Youngstown East. The Canes had little difficulty in disposing of the Ursuline Irish in a Tuesday opener but will have to show lots of improvement to get by the veteran East squad.

Section 23 teams, who normally play each other, engage seven outside opponents.

East Brook Eagles, a co-favorite in the county race, takes on its first high school team. Penn Township. The Mathews cagers swamped the Alumni 45 to 22 in the opener last Tuesday.

New Wilmington travels to Stoneboro in quest of win No. 2. The Greyhounds meet a tough opponent that has just notched a 36-22 victory over Grove City high.

Mounties Seek First

Defending county champion Mt. Jackson will attempt to get into the win column against Hickory. The Mercer county team will be the Mounties' first home opponent.

Webster's boys lost to Springfield 46 to 38 last Saturday. Fredonia stopped Hickory 39 to 28.

Union Scotties meet their first major foe at Youngstown Ursuline. The Blue and White has two easy wins over Darlington but will have a tough battle against Tom Carey's Irish.

Bessemer takes on Zellenople in another home fray. The Cementers have one each way for a season's record. Zellenople will be the first western Pennsylvania opposition for the Red and Black.

Wampum will be after its first win at Freedom. The Oilers spoiled the Indians home opener by taking the Hennonmen 60 to 23. Monaca, one of the better valley teams, thumped the local last night and prospects for the Friday game are not too promising.

Shenango rounds out the full card by playing at Hopewell. Hopewell lost to Freedom 40 to 29 earlier this week and the outcome of the Shenango game should offer the first comparative scores for Section 23 fans to discuss.

Owen Dougherty's 240 yards along the ground and 281 yards via the air lanes established him as Penn State's offensive leader during the 1949 football campaign.

Pat Valentino Bows To Louis

Retired 'Champ' Pounds Pat Into Helpless Mass In Eighth Round

By KEN OPSTEIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Joe Louis counted Pat Valentino among his knockout victims today and said he would have to be guaranteed a million dollar gate before making a comeback in a championship match.

Louis was blubbery and balding but he still punched like the Brown Bomber of old. He smashed Valentino through the ropes and into a helpless and gory mass in 2:36 of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round exhibition in Chicago last night.

Joe took 2:21 more time than Ezzard Charles needed to dispose of the 29-year-old Californian in a championship match in San Francisco last Oct. 14. Louis used 10-ounce gloves, however, while the National Boxing Association king and Valentino fought with 8-ounce mitts.

Louis said he was satisfied with his performance and thought his timing was "pretty good." But he added:

"I haven't changed my mind about remaining in retirement."

Most observers continued to believe that the 224-pound Louis was fighting himself into condition for a title match next June. Joe will box 10-round exhibitions against Lee Oma in Detroit next Wednesday and against Al Hoesman in Oakland, Calif., Dec. 19.

Favor LaMotta Over Frenchman

Villemain To Fight Middleweight 'Champ', Second Time, Friday

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—An encore to a fight which resulted in the suspension of a referee and a judge will be had in New York tomorrow night when middleweight titlist Jake LaMotta shows up everyone, to oppose the eye-eyed Robert Villemain of France.

LaMotta, who won his title from a one-armed man six months ago and, perhaps thoughtfully, hasn't fought since, will be the favorite of record in the ten-round non-title bout.

But the Madison Square Garden locals can't help but remember March 25 last, when Villemain did everything but carry Jake out on a stretcher—and lost the fight! Split decision.

This peculiar carriage of justice rested on the studied opinion of Harry Ebbetts, the referee, and Harold Barnes, a judge. Charles Shortell, the other judge, saw the 12-round seven rounds for Villemain, four for LaMotta and one even.

Ebbetts, though, called it 6-4-1 for LaMotta; and Barnes, who thought it was a closer fight, said 6-5-1, same way.

An incredulous New York Boxing Commission forthwith suspended both of them. Both since have been reinstated, so it will be of long-shot interest to see who shows up in the officials' pews tomorrow.

Monaca Laces Wampum, 68-58

Monaca handed Wampum its second consecutive defeat at the Indian wigwam Thursday night, 68 to 58.

The invaders had little trouble with the Hennon crew and had a 34 to 36 lead before starting to coast in the final period.

Wampum Reserves won the preliminary 57 to 27.

HONORED GUESTS—Speakers and honored guests at last night's "Pitt" program of the New Castle Quarterback Club, 69, came to the Elks group had "Pitt Night" for its final dinner program with Bill McPeak, Bob Lee and Mike Milligan as guests.

Milligan, head coach of the University of Pittsburgh Panthers, paid glowing tribute to the two New Castle boys who have played for him at Skyscraper U. The balding mentor said that it had been a privilege to coach Lee and McPeak.

He added:

"Bobby Lee is a gentleman as well as a star football player. He was extremely cooperative and well liked by his teammates. It was his blocking that made many of the runs of Bimbo Ceconci possible."

Milligan rated last year's Pitt team as one of his best.

In regard to McPeak, last year's most valuable player for the Blue and Gold, Coach Milligan rated him as an ideal end and said he was undoubtedly one of the best freshmen ends in pro football.

Earlier in the program, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh of the New Castle Red Hurdles stated that it was a real credit to the city of New Castle to have produced two such fine athletes as McPeak and Lee.

The honorees now got their chance to speak and held up almost as well on the rostrum as on the gridiron. Lee, outstanding quarterback and play-caller of the Pitt eleven, expressed the belief that athletics were a good way to break down racial discrimination.

The former all-time great halfback at New Castle High received a tremendous hand.

Claims Show Whistle
Bill McPeak, last year's captain at Pitt and former New Castle player, told of some of his experiences in the pro-league. The star defensive wingman for the Steelers blamed a slow whistle for the apparent roughness in the play-for-play circuit. Otherwise he claimed the game was just as clean as in high school or college.

Exalted Ruler Alvin Garvin thanked the second guessers for their fine attendance throughout the season and added brief remarks.

Chairman of the Quarterbacks Ruben Kennedy toastmastered the affair.

Motion pictures of Pitt's victory over Penn State at the Stadium concluded the meeting.

Ramblers-Bisons Battle Tonight

(By International News Service)
The New Haven Ramblers, still locked with the Buffalo Bisons for second place in the eastern division of the American Hockey League, get another chance tonight to move in on the Providence Reds who are pace-setting the eastern loop with 28 points.

The Connecticut team hits the Indianapolis Ice tonight, while the Reds are idle. A win would give the Ramblers the two points they need to match the Providence squad's 29.

In the western division last night the Cleveland Barons, whose 13-game unbeaten streak was broken by Springfield last week, were tied by the Indians, 4-4.

It was the Clevelanders' second successive deadlock. The western pace-setters were held by Pittsburgh, 2-2, last Saturday night in Cleveland.

Other teams scheduled to battle Saturday night are the St. Louis Flyers, who move to Springfield, and the Hershey Bears, who take on the Pittsburgh Hornets. The Bears were defeated by the Indianapolis Caps last night, 4-1.

The Pacific Coast League again topped the minor circuits with a season attendance mark of 3,834-692 paid customers. Another Triple A loop, the International League, placed second with a paid count of 2,456,919.

Bonus Problem Before Minors

Apparently Small Leagues Hold Balance Of Power On Question

By JOHN BARRINGTON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 8.—Baseball's minor leagues come to grips on the controversial question of bonus players today, with major league delegations watching as vitally interested bystanders.

The minors' winter sessions at Baltimore will be given over today and tomorrow by some 45 proposed amendments to the major-minor and minor league agreements.

The issues range from the bonus rule to the status of organized baseball's relations with the winter-time Caribbean league. Also on the docket is the Pacific Coast league's annual bid to escape the drafting of its players by the major leagues.

American and National league clubs are deeply interested in the bonus question, but for once it seems that the small leagues hold a balance of power.

The majors are divided on the bonus regulation, which prevents wholesale manipulation of players who received a bonus for signing.

For instance, the Phillies, once leaders in giving youngsters a lump of cash for signing, now oppose the bonus. Bitter experience has proven to them that the rule prevents rookies from getting proper minor league seasoning.

Some Favor Repeal
On the other hand, Bill DeWitt, St. Louis Browns president and a member of the major league executive council, favors continuation of the present rule.

As for the minors, with each league having an equal voice in the matter, the AAA loops—the International, Pacific Coast and American Association—seemed to favor repeal.

But the little fellows feel they have a better chance of landing young players with the present restrictions in force. And unless the minors vote for repeal, the majors cannot consider the question.

Spikes Stanky Rumor
Baltimore, Dec. 8.—Billy Southworth, manager of the Boston Braves, has made it clear to everyone that pitcher Johnny Sain and shortstop Alvin Dark are definitely "not for sale."

The Boston manager, who left the Braves in mid-season because of ill health, also spiked the rumor that second baseman Eddie Stanky must go. In answer to a question, Southworth replied:

"No sir, nothing of the sort. Stanky might well be back with us when the season starts."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

NEVER knew Johnny Locisano, Ellwood City's fistic impressario could be so quiet. However, this may be due to the inactivity of his protegee, Billy Pozza, heavyweight. It is probable that the Rizieri-Ronzi-Pozza fight which was postponed when Ronzi's jaw was fractured in an Akron fight, may be held following the holiday season. "I'm out about time for Mickie Huff to make his annual declaration: 'I'm out of baseball next season'." On the other hand, "Jewie" Coen, about Mickie's age, eats, drinks and sleeps baseball. Adolf Lang, who hunted deer in Canada, and also here, this year, told Here & There yesterday that Canadian deer are bigger than Pennsylvania Bucks. Relative to last summer's fishing in Canada, he said 1949 was an off year. Lou Brady, who years ago, was a keen judge of Jolly Bowl boxing, is working in Sharon. He commutes. . . has a grandson who is learning to punch a bag. . . Mike Kurek, Sharon, who is well acquainted with the sports fraternity there, is attached to the local A F of L. . . Notre Dame and Navy will play their grid classic in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium next year. The Irish ripped the Middles 27-0, November 2, 1947 before the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Cleveland. . . Regarding an item published in this column about Fritz 'Cool', an informant says, "the correct way to spell his name is 'Kuel'." He played with the Terrace A. C. decades ago.

Bill Hodgkinson, who helped make baseball history in Butler county a couple score years ago, yet retains the 'spring' in his legs, judging from his sprightly gait. . . Jim Hrisoulas, East Washington street, in his younger days was a wrestler. He is well acquainted with Jim London, who is in business in Arizona. . . When Don Eagle and Fred Von Schacht wrestle in The Arena, December 14, opinion is that the crowd will hold the biggest number of feminine fans who ever have witnessed a wrestling match here. Some of the feminine gender become frantic while witnessing an Australian tag match. . . Carl Wallace, police sergeant, had a trying few minutes in the woods near Edinburg several days ago. While hunting a Buck, he seen a deer. However, it had its head down and he was afraid to shoot because of fear it might be a Doe. However, the deer suddenly raised its head, scented Wallace, and bounded out of sight before he had time to shoot. He said it had 10 or 12 points. . . Frank Ward, Sports Editor of the Youngstown Vindicator, a friend of Here & There, for two score years is not feeling too well these days. Here's hoping his health perks up and he is in the pink once again.

SELF-EXPLANATORY New Castle, December 7.

To Whom It May Concern:
It is good to read every night of some resident of the county shooting a Buck in his rear yard. It gives those who are unable to remain from work or lack transportation to the Big Woods, a chance to hunt at home. But, after Saturday, Doe Day, I think it will be over. When such counties as Forest, where Lawrence county persons like to hunt, is smart enough to protect Does, why are people of Lawrence county so stupid? If farmers complained things would be different. Where are all the people, who, when Doe Day was proposed by the Game Commission, wrote to The News in opposition to Doe Day. If I remember right, there were approximately 100 letters which opposed Doe Day to approximately five in favor of Doe Day. I have hunted bear and deer this fall for a total of seven days and I did not find an over supply of deer. Why kill off the herd to prevent starving? Why not feed the deer? For myself, I think it is nice to see deer around here. It gives us, and our children, a chance to see deer. It might not be a bad idea for the Lawrence County Sportsman's association to issue a proclamation asking hunters to save our future sport.

Bruins Drop To NHL Cellar

The Boston Bruins replaced the New York Rangers as doormats in the National Hockey League last night.

The Bruins dropped a 2-to-1 decision to the league-leading Detroit Red Wings and the Rangers downed the fourth place Chicago Black Hawks, 2 to 0.

The turn of events lifted the Blueshirts out of the cellar and dropped the Bruins into its cool confines.

Westminster Takes Easy Opening Win, 68 To 41 Syracuse And

Titans Notch Sixtieth Consecutive Home Win

Westminster's Towering Titans initiated their 1949-50 basketball campaign by taking an easy 68 to 41 win from Gustavus Adolphus at New Wilmington Wednesday night.

The contest also marked the 60th consecutive home win for the Washabaugh cagers. Duquesne's famous "Iron Dukes" of 1942 were the last collegiate team to stop the Titans in the college gym. That was the "blackout contest" that was interrupted by a practice air raid.

Titans Take Lead

Haldo Norman of the Gusties from St. Peter, Minn., gave the visitors a two-point lead after a scoreless first minute of play. Allen McCullough and Clyde Shaffer tied it up with a pair of foul tosses. Norman again connected on a two-point before Jack Jones arched a long set shot for the first Blue and White field goal of the season to make it 4-4.

The Titans looked unpolished and somewhat nervous but had little difficulty pulling away to a big lead. Washabaugh substituted freely throughout. The score was doubled at 26 to 13 late in the second period. This margin could have easily been maintained throughout. The local college quintet had a 31 to lead at halftime.

McCullough High

Captain Al McCullough, a 6-3 center, topped the Titan point makers with five field goals and five out of seven foul tosses. Big "Ozark" has been shifted to center this season and his work under both boards should help the Blue and White immeasurably this season.

Freshman Don Myers, former star with St. Casimir, champions of the class B league in the Pittsburgh diocese, hooped in 13 points and marked himself as a real threat to the starting five. Myers not only took second in point totals but passed well and was a "bear" on defense. Norman was high for the westerners with eight.

Westminster connected on 18 out of 28 foul tries. Gustavus Adolphus hit 19 out of 31 attempts.

Third Straight Loss
The visitors have a season's record of one win and five losses. They have been playing a tough road trip and have lost the last three nights in succession to Bowling Green, Youngstown and the Titans. Tonight they visit Upsala, a future Westminster opponent.

The strategy behind the ambitious trip east is that the Gusties have a new highly respected coach in Gus Young and have completed construction of a big new field house on the campus. This year's squad is comprised mostly of freshmen and sophomores and building up a national reputation for the next three years was the goal.

Westminster sees action again Saturday night at home with Alderbrook as the opposition.

Gordon Glisson Outstanding Jockey

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Rookie sensation Gordon Glisson has been chosen as the outstanding jockey of the year by the New York Turf Writers.

The 19-year-old jockey booted home 162 winners in New York this year despite the fact that he started riding after the season was 39 days old and was sidelined during the last month when he broke his collarbone in a fall.

Glisson edged out the veterans Eddie Arcaro and Ted Atkinson. Arcaro rode 142 winners and Atkinson had 134.

Fine Williams $500 For Charging 'Fix'
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Boxing commission today fined Lightweight Champion Ike Williams $500 and ordered him to apologize to the commission's officials for charging a "fix" in a title bout with Fred Dawson last Monday night.

TITAN NEWCOMER—Don Myers, Westminster freshman sensation, in action against Gustavus Adolphus in last night's opener for the Washabaugh cagers at New Wilmington. Myers, former Catholic league star in Pittsburgh, connected for 13 points and second high honors in the 68 to 41 win over the Minnesota quintet. Gustie players are Jim Werness (center) and Haldo Norman (right).

Rams Favored Over Redskins

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Los Angeles Rams, needing only a tie or victory over the Washington Redskins to cop the western division championship of the National football league, were rated 14-points favorites today over the Redskins.

The teams battle Sunday at Memorial Coliseum.

Even a loss by the Rams could send them into the National League playoff battle with the eastern division Philadelphia Eagles, if the Chicago Cardinals defeat the second place Chicago Bears in their season's finale Sunday.

George (Whitey) Kurowski set the all-time Middle Atlantic hit mark with 209 in 1938 with Portsmouth.

Pulaskis To Meet Farrell Tonight

K. Pulaski "Big Five" will be out for win No. 5 tonight at the K. P. Hall when they face the Farrell P.N.A., composed of ex-Farrell high school stars.

The scheduled game with the Warren V.F.W. team was postponed Tuesday night due to the weather, business manager Eddie Carr reports.

In the preliminary game tonight the K. P. Cubs will meet the Shamrocks at 7 p. m.

Three Michigan State football players will make strong bids for the varsity basketball team this winter. They are Bill and Bob Carey, the twin brother ends from Charlevoix, Mich., and Bob McManus, another end, from Pontiac.

Chicago Win

Pro' Basketball Quintets Leading East And West Divisions

(By International News Service)
Syracuse, Minneapolis and Chicago are marching higher and higher while Denver, Tri-City, Baltimore and Sheboygan are going downward in the National Basketball association.

The Syracuse Nationals, eastern division leaders, made it No. 11 in a row last night, thumping Tri-City 77-69, to increase their lead over New York to four full games.

Chicago trounced Baltimore 84-72 to keep their one-game western division lead over Minneapolis, which also won over Washington 93-76.

The St. Louis Bombers continued to make life miserable for the Denver Nuggets, sending them to their 17th defeat in 20 games by a 76-72 score.

The lowly Tri-City Blackhawks helped continue the downward slide of the Sheboygan Redskins, beating them 77-67. Sheboygan has now lost five games in a row.

Tonight, Syracuse will tackle Sheboygan, New York visits Baltimore; Minneapolis journeys to Ft. Wayne, Indianapolis engages Anderson and Boston meets Philadelphia.

Jaspan Demands Purge In Boxing
Demand Comes After Ring Solons Fine Williams For Charge
By TOM R. BRISLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A demand for a "boxing purge" in Pennsylvania has made upon Governor James H. Duff today as an aftermath of the Williams-Dawson lightweight title bout in Philadelphia on Monday.

The purge demand came from fiery H. Jerome Jaspan, former Democratic state senator, after what he termed was a "whitewash" by the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission of an alleged "fix" charge in the bout.

Jaspan's action followed that of the commission in fining lightweight champion Ike Williams $500 and ordering him to apologize to boxing officials for utterances "detrimental to boxing."

The commission's penalty against the 133-pound king arose from Williams' pre-bout statement to newsmen that "an old friend—a gambler" has tipped him by telephone that Ike couldn't win if his bout with Chicago's Freddy Dawson went the 15-round limit.

Williams won a close decision and later denied knowing the identity of the caller. He insisted he told newsmen of the incident because he feared "suspension for failing to report a bribe attempt."

The commission imposed the fine because Ike informed the press of the alleged "fix" call before the commission learned of the incident.

Fran Rogel, Penn State fullback, carried the ball 400 times during his three seasons of college football. And he was good for four yards every time he punched the line.

NEEDLESS DEATHS
Tuberculosis is killing nearly 1,000 Americans a week. This is needless waste of life, because tuberculosis can be prevented. You can help prevent tuberculosis by buying Christmas Seals, sold by the 3,000 affiliates of the National Tuberculosis Association to support year-round, nationwide TB control programs.

Buy and Use Christmas Seals

Frank Wagner was the tenth pitcher in the history of the Middle Atlantic League to surpass the 200 mark in strikeouts in one season when he struck out 206 in 1949.

SPORT SHORTS
A group of 100 Green Bay businessmen were banded under the slogan, "Save the Packers," and pledged $50,000 to keep the wolf away from their professional football team. The pioneer team of the National Football league is faced with the possible loss of $90,000 this season.

Former lightweight boxing champion Bob Montgomery today was fined $200 and costs when he was found guilty of participation in the numbers racket.

No member of this year's club, Connie Mack warned, is sure of a job. Several players, notably the sensational rookie southpaw Alex Kellner, seem virtually certain of retaining their positions, however.

Soloists Named For Presentation Of The Messiah

Be Given December 11
At The Cathedral

The Music club chorus of 225 voices will present Handel's "Messiah" this Sunday evening, December 11, at the Cathedral at 8 p. m. This presentation culminates several weeks of intensive rehearsals. Soprano soloist will be Alice Long, vocal instructor at Westminster college and soloist of the Shadyside Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. Miss Long needs no introduction to New Castle as she has performed with "The Messiah" chorus several times before. Elsa Strehler, choir director of the Second United Presbyterian church, will do the alto solos for the third time in New Castle. Mrs. Strehler has done concert work in Pittsburgh, Beaver Valley, Pa., Canton and Lakewood, O. For five consecutive years she has been soloist for "The Messiah" with the Choral society of Niles, O.

The tenor renditions will be given by Robert Topping of the Sixth Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. He is on the music faculty of Geneva college. Mr. Topping is a well known singer throughout western Pennsylvania and Ohio. He sang with our chorus last year at this time. This year he will favor a Kalamazoo audience with these tenor solos on December 9th and then join our chorus for its performance.

Book To Sing
The new vocal music instructor of New Castle high school, Edward Book, will sing the bass arias. Formerly, Mr. Book was the soloist with the Downtown Choral society of Pittsburgh, a chorus consisting of 200 voices, and with Westminster choir of Princeton, N. J. For an extended period of time he has his own radio program broadcast from Pittsburgh and Sharon radio stations.

The chorus will be under the direction of Mrs. William J. Caldwell, who has been its inspiring leader these past ten years. Her keen interpretation of this oratorio has been transposed to members of the chorus. This should result in a thrilling performance. Accompanists will be Kathryn Nossie Allen and Edwin Lewis, both respected in New Castle for their precise and expressive accompaniments.

Officers of the chorus are Mrs. James W. Moorehead, executive advisor, Edna Kelley, secretary, Alice Reese, librarian, Maude Mitchell, treasurer, Mrs. Jacob Jordan, publicity, and Ruth Weir, accompanist. The chorus is a section of the Music club whose president is Esther Helmick.

The Ministerial Association of New Castle is sponsoring this performance. There will be no admission fee but an offering will be taken to help defray expenses. A large audience is anticipated.

PRR Starts New Policy To Award Service Buttons

Employees Eligible Will Be Presented With Buttons On Or Right After Date

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8. — (INS)—The Pennsylvania railroad announced Wednesday that it has established a new policy of awarding a silver button to employees with 40 years of service, and a bronze button for those with the firm for 25 years.

The railroad has a gold service button award, established in 1929, for employees with 50 years of service. A total of 3,846 employees have received the gold button.

Employees eligible to receive the new awards will be presented with them on or immediately after the date of their anniversaries, the announcement said.

By the early Middle Ages Christmas had become the greatest of popular festivals. Churches were decorated and plays concerning the nativity were enacted. Images of the Virgin and Christ were carried from house to house.
